County Fair Livestock Judging Begins

Attendance Placed At 7,100 for First 2 Days of Event

Ideal weather conditions Saturday and Sunday drew large crowds to the opening sessions of the 104th Marion County Fair.

More than 5,000 persons passed through the gates Saturday, opening day. Of those, 2,300 were paid-admissions, according to Don Clements, president of the fair board.

SUNDAY DREW a crowd of more than 5,000 with 4,800 being paid admissions to raise the two-day total to 7,100 paid. Clements placed the sunny weather on the top of the list in accounting for the good crowds. That plus the weekend starting dates combined to draw the crowds.

Saturday was mainly a day of preparation as exhibitors scurried about leading animals into their pens, fixed up their booths, and managed to get everything ready by the 6 p.m. deadline.

With a record number of animals entered in the livestock shows this year, extra tents had to be erected. Clements made arrangements and had six animal tents up by the end of opening day.

Those plus the 30 used by concession stands combined to give the fairgrounds a well-populated look. Now in its third day, the fair will continue until Thursday, when the event closes and people either travel to the State Fair in Columbus or return to the regular routine of every-day living.

Judging, main event of any fair, began this morning, with more than 1,300 animals to be graded. Today's activities in the judging buildings centered around dairy cattle, sheep, poultry, and farm produce.

TUESDAY WILL SEE the Ohio Shorthorn Show with more than 100 entries from all over Ohio, including animals from Northfield, Eaton, Solon, Sidney, Washington C. H., St. Marys, Uniopolis, Bellville, Columbus Grove, Lima, Fredericktown, and the Marion area.

The owners of Shorthorns entered in the contest will compete for more than $1,000 in prizes, richest Shorthorn purse to be offered in any of the county fairs in Ohio this year.

From here, most of the exhibitors will travel to Columbus to compete in the National Shorthorn Contest being held this year at the Ohio State Fair on Sept. 1.

Judging will conclude Tuesday with Holstein cattle, beef cattle, and swine being the final livestock to be judged. A nutrition review will be presented Tuesday morning at the grandstand starting at 10:30 followed at 1:30 p.m. by a style review.

One of the main activities Saturday was a baton twirling contest in the morning and a talent show in the afternoon. After the show, baskets of flowers were presented to the two oldest women present in the grandstand and to the person who traveled the farthest to attend the fair.

MRS. FRANCIS EMMINGER of Binghamton, N. Y. was awarded the basket for traveling the farthest. Mrs. Minnie Fuller, 73, of Caledonia and Mrs. L. A. Wood, 76, of 605 E. Church St. were the oldest women present.

OPENING DAY of the Marion County Fair Saturday produced several scenes such as this, in which Rita Collmer of near Marion makes friends with a Holstein entered by Phyllis McCoy of near Caledonia. Rita had to get onto a bail of hay to reach the cow's head, but didn't seem to mind. More than 7,100 paid admissions were reported aftre the opening sessions of the fair Saturday and Sunday.

France's Premier Rushes To Confer With Churchill After Brussels Talks Fail

Dutch Plane Down at Sea, Fear 21 Dead

Big KLM Airliner Out Of New York Crashes, None Believed Saved

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) —A Royal Dutch KLM airliner from New York crashed into the North Sea off the Dutch coast today and all 21 or more persons aboard are feared to have perished, the KLM Air Line announced.

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A Royal Dutch KLM airliner vanished mysteriously today on a flight from New York and the Scheveningen radio reported a fishing vessel had sighted some lifebelts and packages in the North Sea off the Dutch coast.

The fishing vessel, the Texel Ymuiden 5, was reported to have made the find about 16 miles northwest of Ymuiden, Amsterdam's seaport. Unofficial sources said Dutch trawlers traced floatsam in the same area.

Of the 23 persons aboard the plane, on its final leg from Shannon, Ireland, 12 were believed to be Americans.

The plane was only about 10 minutes from its goal, flying more than two miles up through murky weather, when it dropped out of sight.

A KLM spokesman described the case as "a complete enigma."

Land forces, planes and ships of the Netherlands and Britain joined in a hunt for the Douglas DC6B Willem Bontekoe, which had radioed at 11:32 a. m. (6:32 a. m., EST) that it was 20 miles northwest of Amsterdam, flying in a cloud at 11,500 feet.

Silence followed that report.

An Amsterdam newspaper said in its first edition the plane, inbound from Shannon, Ireland, crashed in the vicinity of Bernen-on-the-Sea. London Airport officials said they had heard the plane made a forced landing on the North Sea mudflats outside Amsterdam. But hour passed by hour without confirmation of fate of this aerial "Flying Dutchman."

EISENHOWERS AT VACATION HEADQUARTERS. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived at the girlhood home of Mrs. Eisenhower in Denver for their Colorado vacation. With them is Mrs. John S. Doud (center), the First Lady's mother, at whose home they will stay.

'Will Do All I Can To Help,' Briton Says

Leaders Hold 3-Hour Conference on German Role in West's Defense

LONDON (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France conferred more than three hours today with Prime Minister Churchill on ways to salvage the European Defense Community (EDC) and left with the Briton's pledge: "I will do all I can to help you."

Churchill gave his pledge as he opened the door of Pierre-Mendes' car for him after a long talk at Chartwell, the Prime Minister's country estate 25 miles outside London, on which British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden sat in.

Flies Back to Paris

The dynamic little French leader, fretting over the fate of the EDC treaty when it comes up for debate in the French National Assembly Saturday, then drove to Biggin Hill Air Field nearby and took a plane to Paris.

The French leader flew to Britain from Brussels after his failure there to sell France's five continental allies on proposals for a watered-down version of the treaty that would put a half million West Germans into military uniforms.

Mendes-France gave Churchill, father of the idea of a united European defense, a rundown on the abortive Brussels conference.

Britain, like the United States, is associated with but not a member of the proposed EDC which would include France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy and West Germany.

Both Fighting for EDC

Both London and Washington have been pushing hard for EDC, arguing that the plan which provides for West German rearmament is vital for the defense of Europe against Communist aggression.

Mendes-France believes there is little or no chance that the French Parliament will accept EDC in its present form when it comes up for debate Saturday.

Mendes-France came straight from Brussels, where the six-nation talks on the European Defense Community broke down yesterday after four days of practically fruitless bargaining.

Winding up their conference in the Belgian capital, the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg issued a communique admitting failure to agree on EDC but declaring they shared these four common political aims for Western Europe:

1. Closer European cooperation

Speaks Tonight

Nation To Hear Ike Plug Party Record

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, who wants tighter Republican control in Washington, will tell the nation tonight why — in this election year — he likes the record of the GOP-controlled 83rd Congress.

The chief executive, vacationing here, goes on the air coast to coast for a half-hour radio and television address.

All the major TV networks will carry his talk live. So will ABC radio. The others plan to play back recordings later in the evening.

The talk is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

In advance of the speech, it was no secret that Eisenhower plans to plug the record of the GOP-run Congress, which completed action on its legislative program last Friday, as a record of which the administration is proud.

The President said that in so many words in a speech at the Illinois State Fair five days ago. He declared then he feels the voters, in the November elections, ought to send more Republicans to Washington to give his party greater control of the legislative branch.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and a small White House staff, arrived here at midday Saturday for a long work-and-play vacation.

Within two hours after arrival, he got in a practice round on the golf course and then turned to business yesterday. He motored from the home of the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, to the Summer White House offices at

Nixon To Help In Campaign Speechmaking

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has assigned Vice President Nixon to campaign for Republican Senate and governor candidates in a series of tours which will take him into about two thirds of the states before the November election.

Eisenhower himself will keynote the campaign tonight with a half-hour radio-television review of the record of Congress from Denver.

The speech is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

While the President plans visits to several states, he apparently is counting on Nixon as a stand-in for the kind of openly political campaigning he himself doesn't like to undertake.

Nixon, on a 10-day vacation in Maine, will assay the political situation in conferences with individual members of the Republican National Committee in a three-day workshop session at Cincinnati from Aug. 30 through Sept. 1.

Eisenhower and Nixon apparently won't waste any time campaigning in the South. Eisenhower has said he has no plans to speak in Dixie. Nixon will invade Kentucky and possibly some other border states but will go no farther south.

Nixon, who discussed campaign plans with the President at a White House breakfast before Eisenhower left for Denver, is expected to follow closely the theme the President sets in tonight's address.

Thrill Killers' Case Set To Go To Grand Jury

First Degree Murder Indictment Sought; More Hoodlums Jailed

NEW YORK (AP)—The state today will ask a Brooklyn grand jury to indict for first-degree murder four teen-age terrorists who allegedly tortured and battered harmless people just for thrills.

Police said two of their victims were killed.

The shocking reports of the foursome's brutality brought new vigor to a police campaign already started against "undesirables." Over the weekend more than 600 persons were rounded up by police on the lookout for hoodlums and toughs.

Police also had their eyes open for any would-be imitators of the kill-for-thrill gang.

One alleged band of imitators was caught only after its victim, Joel Ewen, a 19-year-old student, stumbled into a police station with his face covered with blood. He reported he was set upon by three youths, the leader of whom yelled at his victim:

"I'm Koslow, the thrill killer."

Crash Injuries Fatal to Boy At Marysville

MARYSVILLE — Curtis Bolenbaugh, 12, son of Arthur Bolenbaugh of Marysville, died enroute to the hospital Saturday afternoon after his bicycle collided with a car on State Route 31, a half mile north of here.

The Union County sheriff's department said the car was driven by Walter C. Hamilton, 38, of Richwood, who was not held.

The boy died of a fractured skull and broken neck shortly after his bicycle crashed into the right front side of the Hamilton car. His body was thrown to the ground just to the left of the auto by the impact and he died enroute to Union County Memorial Hospital in Marysville. The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m.

Hamilton told the officers the Bolenbaugh youngster stood up to pump his bike and then turned in front of his car.

The body was taken to the Faulkner Funeral Home.

Guide for 170 Million

World's Church Leaders Start Drafting Principles

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Churchmen from throughout the world began hammering out in cold prose today the principles which they hope will guide 170 million Christians.

Meeting in discussion groups, the delegates to the second General Assembly of the World Council of Churches sought answers to such questions as the church's attitude toward communism; the capitalistic, free enterprise system and racial and social problems.

Will Submit Reports

Agreed to by members of the discussion groups, the reports later this week will be submitted to full plenary sessions of the Assembly and adopted for guidance by the more than 60 denominations holding membership in the World Council.

There will be six of the reports. Delegates said today that the two on which they will have the most difficulty in reaching agreement will be those on international affairs and social questions.

On international affairs, the churchmen sought to determine what are the main obstacles to an understanding between the Soviet and non-Soviet societies. They tried, too, to find a solution to what they called the "misunderstandings, hostility and suspicion" between the East and the West.

Typical Question

They tried to find answers to such questions as these:

"What is the significance of international technical and financial assistance for underdeveloped countries in relation to a positive peace strategy?

"What must be said from a Christian perspective with regard to such dangers as complacency among Western powers, intolerant methods among Soviet states, irresponsibility among some of the less developed countries?

The Council's department of interchurch aid and service to refugees dramatized its statistics last night and with a cast of 50 told the story of the world's millions of refugees and what the church is doing to help them.

Federal Pay Increase Bill Vetoed by Ike

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today killed a 5 per cent pay increase voted by Congress for 1,500,000 federal workers.

In a statement at his vacation headquarters, the President said he was announcing his veto of the legislation "in order that federal workers may not have to undergo a period of uncertainty as to my action."

Congress passed the bill and sent it to the White House last Friday, just before it closed shop on legislative matters.

Watkins Says Morse, Others Won't Be Called

Sees No Reason for McCarthy Accusers To Repeat Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today a six-man inquiry committee has no plans to call as witnesses three senators who accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) of misconduct.

Watkins, who heads the bipartisan committee, said in an interview he sees no need of having Senators Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) repeat under oath the 46 accusations they leveled against McCarthy in the Senate.

"These senators are not complaining witnesses," he said. "Their responsibility ended when they called the Senate's attention to the charges and the responsibility became the Senate's when it ordered this investigation.

"If they have any personal, first-hand knowledge of evidence they could testify to that, but all of them have indicated to me that their knowledge of the charges is based on records which are available to the committee."

McCarthy has demanded that Flanders return from a European vacation to repeat under oath the 33 charges the Vermont senator made against him in the Senate. Flanders said he will be available

Plane Crashes In Iowa Storm, Killing 11 of 19

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP) — A Braniff International Airways DC3, warned not to land here because of a wild storm, crashed into a pasture yesterday, killing 11 of the 19 persons aboard. Eight were injured, two critically.

An earlier report had given a power failure at the airport as a factor in the crash, but airport officials said the report was erroneous. A power failure an hour later had disrupted some air traffic temporarily but had nothing to do with the crash, they explained.

The plane, northbound from Memphis, Tenn., to Minneapolis, was only about 10 minutes out from the field, Braniff officials said, when they radioed it to hold

American Airlines Strike Nearing End

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal mediators today began 'round-the-clock efforts to get American Airlines planes back into the air on the basis of a tentative agreement with its striking pilots.

Leverett Edwards, a member of the National Mediation Board, said the pilots will return to work as soon as details of a partial settlement reached yesterday can be worked out, and a neutral referee agreeable to both sids can be appointed to recommend a full settlement.

Edwards told a reporter it shouldn't take longer than a day to reach agreement on both points. He said the board will stay in session with company and union officials throughout the night, if necessary.

Drive Slated Oct. 11-21

Careful Planning Aids United Appeals

Year-round effort on the part of some 300 Marionites results in a United Appeals goal which is realistic and at the same time tailored to the needs of Marion County.

These men and women are in essence "inspectors" who grade United Appeals services in the fields of health, welfare and recreation according to the needs of the community.

SINCE THE eight Red Feather services of the Community Foundation and the three other United Appeals agencies, American Red Cross, Cancer Society and Heart Association, are allocated funds on the basis of Marion County's needs, this grading is important.

Therefore, this judgment of agency worth is divided into four steps for Community Foundation agencies, E. J. Kinter, executive director of the Foundation, reports.

Grading for the Foundation's eight agencies (Boy Scouts, Emergency Welfare Fund, Family Service Society, Fresh Air Fund, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, USO and YMCA) is accomplished at these four points:

1. Members of the agency's own board who individually evaluate its service to the community and estimate the cost for continuing it on the basis of past experience.

2. Budget sub-committees which evaluate the services and their needs for funds according to fields of care, such as health, group work, case work, etc.

3. The Foundation advisory committee, whose nine members evaluate the eight agencies' requests, totally, in the light of over-all health and welfare needs of the community.

4. The United Appeals board which conducts the fund drive and gives final approval to Red Feather needs, evaluating the through a realistic appraisal of community means as well as community needs.

From utilization of this four-step process, United Appeals contributors get vital assurance that their dollars are being well spent, Kinter emphasized.

IN ADDITION, this four-step grading process results in assurance that the services are needed, and that the community can meet the United Appeals goal if it properly realizes the great good accomplished by the various services.

The United Appeals campaign in Marion County has failed two years in a row, by $6,000 in 1952, and by $31,000 in 1953. These goal failures caused serious cutbacks in agency allocations and correspondingly affected the Marionites who use United Appeals services.

The goal for the 1954 United Appeals campaign was announced last week to be $163,913, some $3,548 less than the previous year's goal.

During the Oct. 11-21 fund drive, United Appeals workers believe it will be Marion Countians' turn to judge, by their contributions, the various services offered by the 11 participating agencies.

A grade of anything less than the goal means failure.

1 Dead, 2 Hurt in Crash Southwest of Delaware

6 Held as FBI Foils Robbery At Lockbourne

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal agents were on hand early Sunday, ready to make an arrest as three men broke a padlock on an outside door and tried to force open inner doors in the post exchange at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Inside was $125,000 in cash and merchandise. The FBI said weekend receipts from post exchanges at Lockbourne, Columbus General Depot and Ft. Hayes were in two main safes.

The FBI would not say how it learned of the plans.

After the trio was arrested, the FBI arrested three other men in Columbus. All six were charged with conspiracy to commit a crime on a government reservation. Two of the men are airmen stationed at Lockbourne.

They appeared before U.S. Commissioner Robert Newlon here yesterday who set bond at $5,000 each. They were held in city jail.

M. W. McFarlin, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, identified the six as Richard Lee Jones, 22, A.3.C. Junest Lee Sykes, 21, and Joseph Robert Adkins, 32, arrested at the base; A.2.C. Raymond Fentress, 23, James Shields Jr., 24 and Raymond Lee Hicks, 23, arrested in the city. All live in Columbus.

off landing because of the storm.

The field never received an answer, airline officials reported.

The plane crashed on a farm 4½ miles south of Swaledale.

Highway patrolmen reported a wire of a new high-voltage power line between Fort Dodge and Mason City had been snapped and they said they believed the plane had hit it.

Pilots Among Victims

Debris from the crash was spread along a line of more than 500 feet. Police said the plane apparently struck the ground, then bounced for some distance. The plane was demolished, only the tail section remaining relatively intact.

The plane's pilot, Capt. W. A. Pickering, 40, of Parkville, Mo., died at the scene of the crash.

The co-pilot, W. B. Wilde, 31, of Minneapolis, died a short time later at the Hampton, Iowa, hospital.

The hostess, Miss Betty Ann Truly, 23, of Kansas City and Shreveport, La., was reported in "fair" condition at Mercy Hospital in Mason City.

Among the other injured in the Mason City hospital was Mrs. Milton Schoenberg, 54, of Denver, one of two crash victims reported in critical condition. The other, hospitalized at Hampton, was Mrs. Lee Nichols of Minneapolis. Mrs. Schoenberg's husband died in the crash.

Torches Cut Wreckage

Rescue workers had to cut through the tangled wreckage with torches to free some of the groaning passengers. The workers said there were repeated cries of "Get us out! Get us out!"

After the dead and injured were removed, Iowa National Guardsmen moved in to keep spectators from the scene pending arrival of federal officials expected here today to investigate the crash.

In Dallas, Braniff officials said it was the first fatal crash of one of the line's planes since 1939.

4 Petty Thefts Investigated by Marion Police

Four reports of petty thievery, including what is believed to be an armed robbery, were made to Marion police over the weekend.

The robbery occurred shortly before 8:30 p.m. Saturday when a young man wearing a bandana over his face walked into the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad control tower just south of Bellefontaine Ave. Pointing an object, believed to be a gun, at Charles E. Dix, the tower operator, the youth took $4 or $5 from Dix and fled. Dix called police and described the robber. Police are continuing their investigation of the case.

In other petty thievery over the weekend, shoplifting charges were filed against McClinton Murphy, 63, of Pittsburgh, after Charles Osterholt, manager of the W. T. Grant Store on W. Center St. said he saw him take some articles from the store without paying for them.

Osterholt said he followed Murphy out of the store onto the street then went back to call police. Murphy was found a short time later hiding in a sand bin at Millard Hunt Co. on Oak St. Police said he had thrown away 14 women's underslips he had taken from the store. Valued at $41 they were all recovered, police said.

Theft of a tire and wheel and fishing pole from the trunk of his car was reported to police at 8 p.m. Sunday by Damon Monnett of 593 N. Greenwood St. He said the articles were taketn sometime between Aug. 19 and Sunday night.

A break-in at the Courtney Shell filling station at Baker and E. Center Sts. was reported to police at 6:37 a.m. today. Police said entrance was gained through a rear window but nothing was reported missing.

Mountain Climber Saves Companion's Life but Loses Own

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP) — A mountain climber trapped in a crevasse by his own heroism was found dead late last night on towering Mt. Olympus.

Doctors said Dr. Anthony Levy, 30, a University of California research biochemist from Berkeley, had been dead about nine hours before his body was reached.

He had been trapped deep in a crevasse at the top of the 7,954-foot peak which stands in the center of Olympic National Park.

Levy, with four others, were climbing the mountain Saturday when one of the party, Dick Neal of Seattle, slipped into the crevasse breaking a leg in the fall.

Levy volunteered to go down and help get Neal out. The efforts to rescue Neal were successful, but Levy, exhausted by his efforts, could not get out himself and attempts by the other three to bring him to the surface failed.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Hit While Riding Bicycle; No One Hurt Seriously

Four persons were slightly injured and three drivers arrested in six of 10 weekend traffic accidents reported today by Marion police. The state highway patrol and sheriff's deputies reported no accidents on Marion County streets or highways.

A nine-year-old bicycle rider suffered an injured back in a collision with an automobile in one of the city accidents. Mary B. Guthery of 489 Cherry St. was riding her bicycle west on W. Columbia St. at Pearl St. and turned left into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Mary E. Mathis of 363 Girard Ave., police reported. The accident occurred at 11:24 a.m. Saturday. She required no hospital treatment for her injury.

Hurt in a collision between her car and a Marion City Lines bus at Polk and Van Buren Sts. at 5:30 p.m. Saturday was Mrs. Mary G. Finch of 565 Lee St. She suffered a cut on her chin and was treated and released at City Hospital. Driver of the bus involved was S. R. Stafford, 38, of 385 Glad St.

A cut lip was sustained by John F. McCabe, 21, of near Caledonia when his car collided with a car parked in front of the YMCA on E. Church St. at 1:45 a.m. Sunday. The parked car was owned by Clyde L. Rickerson of the YMCA. McCabe required no medical treatment.

Injuries to her left knee and back were suffered by Lottie Simon of 209 Senate St. when a taxicab in which she was riding was involved in a collision with two other cars at W. Center and Oak Sts. at 9:16 p.m. Sunday. She was treated for her injuries at City Hospital and released. Driver the taxi was Felton F. Castle, 38, of 147 Canby Ct. Drivers of the other cars involved were George R. Golden of 226 Patterson St. and Clarence J. Golden of 641 W. Columbia St.

Charges of hit-skip driving and driving on a temporary permit unaccompanied by a licensed driver were filed against Lester Gates Jr., 24, of 775 York St. as a result of a collision at N. State and Fairview Sts. at 7:57 p.m. Sunday. Gates' car was involved in a collision with another car driven by George F. Rowland, 57, of near Marion, police reported. Rowland told police that Gates stopped and talked to him after the accident but left the scene when he went to call police.

Drivers of both cars involved in a collision at Fies Ave. and Brown St. at 10:09 a.m. Saturday were arrested by police. They were William A. Cook, 74, of 968 N. State, charged with failure to yield the right of way and Robert F. Harper, 20, of 364 Mary St., charged with failure to register a motor vehicle.

A collision in front of 194 E. Fairground St. at 10:41 p.m. Sunday involved cars driven by Joann M. Gorenflo of 504 Universal Ave. and Harley Starcher, 19, of 916 Gebhardt St.

Remaining three accidents in the city all involved less than $100 damage each.

to protect West Europe from aggression.

2. The avoiding of neutralization of Germany.

3. Continued efforts to work for unification of Germany and some sort of German contribution to Allied defense.

4. Drafting of a formula to promote Europe's political and economic integration.

It was generally felt that barring some miracle, EDC and the six-nation European army it was to set up were dead hopes. Observers in Paris freely predicted the National Assembly would kill the pact once and for all if Mendes-France submits it for ratification this weekend, as he is scheduled to do.

The French Premier reportedly carried to Churchill the outline of some alternate plan of European defense, in which Britain would play a major role. Observers in London believed Churchill himself had some such plan to put before the bustling, determined French leader.

They recalled Churchill's message last week to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a key figure at the Brussels talks.

"My belief," Churchill said then, "is that all will come out right in the end in one form or another. . ."

Adenauer himself declared yesterday, after the talks broke down, that he was confident Mendes-France would win ratification of EDC in the French National Assembly debate to begin next Saturday. The French Premier already had told the Brussels group he was convinced the Assembly would reject the army plan unless the other five nations agreed to the sweeping revisions he demanded in the EDC treaty.

Throughout the Brussels talks, Churchill had kept close contact with the U. S. government. High-level talks between the two transatlantic allies were expected to follow today's meeting with Mendes-France.

Lowry Air Force Base and worked for 90 minutes with his aides on tonight's speech.

After returning to the residence of his mother-in-law, he and the First Lady took it easy the rest of the day. They did not attend church services.

The President also worked on the draft of tonight's speech during the six-hour flight from Washington Saturday. He gave some attention too to an outline of an address he will make at the annual convention of the American Legion in Washington Aug. 30.

Other Speeches Scheduled

That will be a one-day flight to the capital and back, with a stop in Des Moines on the return trip for a brief informal talk at the Iowa State Fair.

The President has a daytime talk scheduled at McNary Dam dedication ceremonies, on the Oregon - Washington boundary, Sept. 23. And he will address a political rally in Hollywood Bowl at Los Angeles that evening.

Those September engagements mean he won't return to Washington to stay until very late in september or early October. More speaking dates are being arranged.

The President brought to Denver close to 500 bills passed by Congress during the closing days of its session. Decisions whether to sign them into law or veto them probably will keep him close to his desk most of this week.

His headquarters announced yesterday the United States will provide transportation for evacuation of up to 100,000 refugees from North Vietnam in Indochina, the area soon to come under Communist control. This is an increase over previous plans.

Santa Fe Chief Derails, Killing Four in Illinois

LOMA, Ill. (AP) — The crack streamliner Sante Fe Chief derailed just east of Lomax yesterday en route from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Of approximately 200 passengers, four were killed and 53 were listed as injured. Only the locomotive and a mail car of the 13car train held the rails.

The rest zigzagged along the track, some crashing into a parallel string of refrigerator cars on another track. All remained upright except No. 9, which rolled onto its side.

It was No. 9 which contained most of the victims.

Two of the dead were identified by Henderson County Coroner Dean F. Beals as Edward S. Monty, Phelps, Wis., and Mrs. Gina Guilfi, Albuquerque, N.M.

Another woman and a man, both unidentified, were killed.

At least 13 of the injured were in serious condition in hospitals in Burlington and Fort Madison, Iowa, across the Mississippi River.

"I'm feeling rich," Stan Smith said with a smile when I met him on the street. "I've been offered $15,000 for that house I bought 12 years ago for $8,000."

Earl J. Andrews

"That's fine," I said, "but you might feel poor before the day's over."

"How's that?" Stan asked.

"If your house should burn down," I said, "because I'll guess you've probably never thought to increase the fire insurance policy you took out when the house was worth only $8,000."

Stan looked stunned. "You're right," he said. I only have a $6,500 policy. I really would be up against it if I tried to replace my home with that amount of money."

"Too often," I said, "people let their fire insurance grow stale. When values change, it needs to be revised."

"Can you issue coverage that will bring it up to about $13,000? I want to preserve this rich feeling even though we don't plan to sell our home."

"Sure, Stan," I replied.

If you haven't revised your fire insurance in the past 5 years, chances are your policy needs to be freshened up too. Let us give you an estimate of present value. Okay?

Indians' Chances Appear Bright With Record Lead

Margin Jumps to 5½ Games As Tribe Wins, Yanks Lose

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cleveland's Indians haven't had it so good in many a day.

They've got hitting, most of the time right when they need it. Their so - called "big three" pitching strength has become the "big three plus two" with fine relief help on tap, too.

And with the breaks that it takes, their league lead is up to 5½ games, a record for the season and an awe-inspiring distance at this time of year to the team on the wrong end of it, the New York Yankees.

A crushing 12 - 1 Tribe victory over the Baltimore Orioles and the Boston Red Sox' third straight triumph over the faltering Yanks stretched the league margin to its new proportions yesterday.

Adding to the optimism felt generally among Cleveland fans is the fact that Cleveland has only 34 in the vital "games lost" column against New York's 40; and has 32 games yet to play against New York's 31.

The big three—Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia—have a total of 50 victories to their credit. That compares with 46 at this time last year; 47 in 1952, 46 in '51, 42 in '50 and 47 in 1949, the first year they all played on the same team.

Wynn won his 17th yesterday as he limited the Orioles to three hits and was still going strong when he was replaced by a reliefer at the end of the seventh inning. Lemon has won 18 and Garcia 15.

The "plus two" are veteran Bob Feller, having a fine season with 11 victories and but two defeats, and Art Houtteman, contributing 13 victories against six losses.

Then there's "Prince" Hal Newhouser with five victories, and two youngsters—Ray Narleski and Don Mossi—coming through repeatedly in relief roles.

Amost all of the Tribe seems to be hitting when it counts, but Larry Doby stands well above the rest. He hammered in two runs yesterday and brought his total runs-batted-in for the season to 102. This is the fourth time in the last six seasons Doby has gone over the 100 mark.

In yesterday's game, Doby batted twice in Cleveland's big six-run fifth inning, getting a single and a double. He singled in the third inning for a total of three hits in five trips to the plate.

Avila and Hegan also hit doubles. Every Indian who started, with the exception of Al Smith, got at least one hit.

Baltimore's lone run came in the fifth when Jim Brideweser doubled and Chuck Diering singled him home.

Off today, the Indians open a two-game series with the Athletics here tomorrow.

Blues Win Two As 'Drainball' Run Ruled Out

By The Associated Press

Charleston's celebrated "drainball" homer was wiped out of the record books officially and finally Sunday as the Kansas City Blues poured on the steam in the American Association race.

The Blues beat the Senators twice, 12-3 and 2-1 Sunday—with the first game taking up where Friday's contest was protested, in the fourth inning.

The Blues were leading 3-1 Friday with a Charleston runner on second and two out. Rocky Tedesco socked a pitch far into fair territory but the ball rolled out of bounds and down a drain.

Umpires ruled the ball went for a home run and Charleston eventually recorded a 4-3 victory. However, American Association President Ed Doherty later said it was no more than a ground rule double and ordered the game replayed from this point.

The Blues wasted no time settling the matter once and for all in their favor.

In other Association activity Sunday:

The league-leading Indianapolis Indians polished off Columbus 1-0 as pitcher Bob Kelly scattered five hits. Stu Miller and Barney Schultz gave the Indians only three hits, but one of these was a single by Stan Pawloski that scored Hank Foiles from second. Foiles had walked and stolen second.

Toledo beat St. Paul 7-6 on home runs by Felix Mantilla, Bob Thorpe and Billy Queen off Wade Browning.

Louisville continued in second place, 14 games behind the Indians, with a 13-9 victory over Minneapolis.

Speedbowl Stock Car Races Are Canceled

Aussies Lose Title to Seixas, Trabert Team

BROOKLINE, Mass., (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert are preparing for the singles championships at Forest Hills secure in the knowledge thy're still the doubles team to beat in the tennis world.

Seixas, the scrappy, court-wise Philadelphian, and Trabert, the "big game" specialist from Cincinnati, playing together for the first time since Wimbledon, defeated Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall 3-6 6-4, 8-6, 6-3 in the finals of the National Doubles Tournament.

In the women's final, defending champions Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, won their fourth straight title 6-4, 6-4 over Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Hoad's blazing service and net game and Rosewall's placements allowed the Australians to run through the first set and hint at a rout of the Americans. Then Vic and Tony stormed back to dominate play the rest of the match.

Foot Injured, Races End for Native Dancer

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) —Native Dancer, the great grey champion known as "the people's horse" although owned by a millionaire, is going home to Maryland—his racing days ended.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt reluctantly decided yesterday to retire the powerful 4-year-old colt to stud after the recurrence of an injury to his right forefoot.

The idol of millions, at the tracks and over the television lanes, was to have started in the mile and three quarters Saratoga Cup Friday. Then a decision was to have been made whether to fly the colt to France.

Vanderbilt made his decision suddenly after conferring with trainer Bill Winfrey. The Dancer, winner of 21 of his 22 races, worked out Sunday morning.

It was only one week ago today that the Dancer ran his last race, passing the 20-out-of-21 record of the great Man O'War, who was retired after his 3-year-old season in 1920.

Ward Is Favored For Amateur Title

DETROIT (AP) — Harvie Ward, fresh from a triumph in the Canadian Amateur golf championship, figures that no player who isn't adept at every phase of the game of golf can win the 1945 U. S. Amateur championship, opening today at the plush Country Club of Detroit.

Ward, advancing into the role of a favorite on the strength of Saturday's victory over Bill Campbell in the Canadian final, got his first look at the flat 6,875 yard course in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms yesterday.

Cincy Folds, Drops Into Fifth Place

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Folding with the regularity of an accordion, the Cincinnati Redlegs today found themselves out of the first division and in the more familiar surroundings of fifth place.

It was another case of plenty of hitting but inadequate pitching yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals collapsed the Reds, 9-7. The defeat placed Cincinnati but one percentage point ahead of the sixth-place Cardinals. The Reds relinquished fourth place to the Philadelphia Phillies, who took a double header from Brooklyn.

Five Red pitchers were racked as the Cards banged 13 hits. The Reds got 11 hits and a fair share of runs, but the mound crew could not hold up.

Jim Greengrass had a home run, his 23rd, a double and single in four trips, driving in one run and scoring three himself. Johnny Temple also contributed three safeties, including a double. But they could not make up the margin needed to overcome the potency of Stan Musial and his mates.

In the three-game series with the Cardinals, the Reds gave up 32 hits, 10 of them doubles, including three by Musial. Stan got two of them yesterday.

Corky Valentine, the starter, was knocked out for the second time in less than a week in the fourth inning. Moe Savransky took over and was tagged with the defeat. Other Red moundsman who contributed to the Card output were Joe Nuxhall, Howie Judson and Harry Perkowski.

As in the previous contests, the Redlegs jumped off to an auspicious start with a run in the second inning off Brooks Lawrence on singles by Greengrass and Temple. Another run materialized in the third on singles by Valentine and Gus Bell and a sacrifice.

The Cards retaliated with a tally in their half of the third on a single by Bill Sarni, who stole second, and another by Wally Moon.

The Reds added another in the fourth but the Cardinals scored four runs in their half, chasing Valentine and taking a 5-3 lead. Another outburst of three runs by the Cincinnatians, on singles by Roy McMillan, Ted Kluszewski and Temple and a pair of walks, recovered the lead temporarily.

Savransky failed to last the fifth, giving way to Judson, as the Cards scored two runs on three hits, one a double by Red Schoendienst. They got two more in the sixth.

Trophy Match Won By Army Corporal

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—A field of the nation's top rifle marksmen warmed up in a series of practice matches today for the National Trophy team match tomorrow.

The National Trophy individual match was won yesterday by an Army corporal who had failed to qualify for the "first team" of Army marksmen.

Cpl. Edward F. Grimes, who came here with the First Army team from Fort Devens, Mass., got 242 points out of a possible 250 to top the field of more than 300 competitors. Grimes tried out last spring for the crack team the Army picks from its entire ranks, but did not qualify.

Six Clubs Rated Contenders For Big Ten Football Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—With the opening of Big Ten football practices only a little more than a week away, handicappers are prophesying a torrid championship race that could involve as many as six teams.

Seldom in Big Ten gridiron history has as many as a half dozen teams been conceded title chances. At this early stage, contenders appear to be Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan State, Ohio State and Michigan.

Of the group, the pre - season form sheet favors Illinois and Wisconsin at the top.

Iowa, after that memorable 14-14 tie with Notre Dame, was considered by many the best team in the Big Ten when the conference season ended last year. The Hawkeyes may go all the way this time and could be the key team in the title scramble.

The crystal gazers agree it would be a miracle if any team came through the Big Ten campaign without defeat, and in picking the Illini and Badgers to head the "big six" they do so with fingers crossed.

Invitations to fall drills, starting in earnest Sept. 1, have been sent to approximately 672 players in the conference. In that group are more than 200 lettermen.

Illinois will welcome 70, including 14 monogrammers, and should have one of the strongest running attacks ever conceived in the Big Ten. Lined up for the Illini backfield are J. C. Caroline, the nation's leading ground gainer last fall as a sophomore; Mickey Bates, nearly as sensational; and newcomers Abe Woodson, state prep 'sprint' champion from Chicago Austin, and Harry Jefferson of White Plaines, N. Y., another hard-driving speedster. All four are Negroes.

Out of 65 to report at Wisconsin, 16 are lettermen. There are 10 seniors among the 16, including fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche.

Wisconsin's backfield may be slower this fall, but it should make up for this in power and defensive strength. With material from the freshman ranks and holdovers from the 1953 campaign, Wisconsin has adequate depth at nearly all spots.

Illinois shared the 1953 crown with Michigan State, being knocked from outright possession of it by the Badgers, who romped over the Illini 34-7. Wisconsin finished third.

Michigan State, under new Coach Duffy Daugherty, has 21 lettermen back, but eight of the 11 starters on the Spartans' Rose Bowl championship team have been lost.

Dodgers, Yankees Slip Back in Pennant Challenges

Owner Displeased

Kuharich Named Coach Of 'Skins; Lambeau Out

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Kuharich, a man who has worked with the Washington Redskins football team for only 3 days, today took over as head coach under a 'get tough" policy which resulted in Coach Curly Lambeau's dismissal yesterday.

After the club arrived in Detroit last night for an exhibition game with the Detroit Lions Friday night, Washington General Manager Dick McCann said flatly:

"Joe Kuharich is the new coach of the Redskins. That is definite."

McCann said the move was made shortly after Lambeau and fiery George Preston Marshall, Redskin owner, had a heated argument in the lobby of a Sacramento, Calif., hotel early yesterday.

Kuharich, 37, is the sixth Redskin coach in eight years.

Lambeau did not make the trip to Detroit.

Kuharich said, "I only know that I was told that I am in charge of the team."

Sources close to the team said they believed Marshall was displeased with the "easygoing" approach Lambeau had taken with the club.

"Players like Lambeau because he lets them get into shape the way they see fit," said one source, "and now you can bet they'll really have to hustle."

This is Kuharich's first season with the club. He began work with them July 20 as an assistant line coach. He was head coach of the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 after piloting the University of San Francisco to an undefeated season in 1951. He began coaching Notre Dame's freshman team in 1938 and played guard for the Cardinals in 1940, '41 and '45.

Lambeau took over in August 1952 when Dick Todd resigned on the night of the Redskins opening game of the season with the Los Angeles Rams. He won five games in 1952 and lost seven. Last year he won six, lost five and had one tie.

Giants Take 2 As Phils Down Brooks Twice

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

While the American League in general and New York Yankees in particular waits breathlessly for the Cleveland Indians' tepee to collapse, the Tribe blithely ignores the somber warnings of their enemies.

Al Lopez's remarkable Redskins were 5½ games in front of the Yanks today and showing no signs of tapering off in their war on the rest of the league. In fact, the Yanks' only chance of winning their sixth straight pennant now is a Cleveland collapse.

The Tribe whipped Baltimore yesterday 12-1 while the Boston Red Sox were putting the crusher on Casey Stengel's outfit 8-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit halted Chicago (the White Sox are out of it) 7-4, and the Philadelphia A's defeated Washington 3-2 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second was called after nine innings because of the Sunday curfew with the score tied 4-4.

In the National League, the New York Giants cemented their claim to the pennant by gaining two games on the Brooklyn Dodgers. They swept a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and 5-3 while the Philadelphia Phillies were crushing the Brooks twice, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Milwaukee Braves, 7½ games off the pace, blasted Chicago 12-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-7.

The Tribe slapped out 20 hits while Early Wynn held the Baltimore club to three in his seven innings on the mound. After that Lopez sent in the scrubs.

The Yanks could do nothing right. Only ancient Enos Slaughter was impressive. Ted Williams knocked in the first four Sox runs with a homer and a double. That was all Frank Sullivan needed to hang up his 11th victory and give Boston a sweep of the three-game weekend series. Harry Byrd was the victim.

Detroit jumped on Billy Pierce for four runs in the first two innings and the White Sox never did get back in the game. Frank Bolling drove in three of the Tigers' runs. Billy Hoeft was the winner.

Joe DeMaestri drove home the winning run for the A's in the 12th inning of the opener against the Senators to give Charlie Bishop his victory.

The Pirates knocked both the Giants' ace pitchers, Johnny Antonelli and Sal Maglie, out of the box before losing. The Giants had to score twice in the ninth to win the first game. A pinch single by Billy Taylor drove in the winning run after three straight passes and an error forced in the tying marker.

In the nightcap, the Pirates chased Maglie in the fifth, and from there on in, a brilliant relief job by Hoyt Wilhelm held them in check. He didn't yield a hit in the 4 2-3 innings he toiled.

The Giants now have a bulge of four games over the Dodgers.

A couple of pitchers who have had indifferent success to put it charitably, mowed down the Brooks. Herman Wehmeier, whose record shows six victories and nine defeats, whipped them in the opener, and, in fact, had a shutout until the eighth. In the nightcap, Murry Dickson was nursing a 10-game losing streak until the Phils whitewashed them in the second game.

Del Ennis was the Brooks' nemesis. He hit a three-run homer in each game and drove in seven runs. Carl Erskine was the first-game victim and Russ Meyer the second, although neither was around at the end.

Bobby Thomson returned to full-time duty with Milwaukee and promptly belted a two-run home run. Brave home run slugger Eddie Mathews left the game after he was hit on the finger There was no fracture. He'll be out only a few days.

St. Louis' victory over Cincinnati dropped the Redlegs to fifth place. Stan Musial had a pair of doubles in the 13-hit Card attack on five Red pitchers. Al Brazle was the winner.

RICHARDS SIGNS

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Righthander Duane Richards, 18, of Westmont High School near Greenville recently signed a contract with the Cincinnati Redlegs, it was reported. Richards, 6-foot-3, 175 pounds, will report to Douglas, Ga., next spring.

Why You Go Bald Demonstrated By Hair Expert Here This Week

A Church trichologist of the Church Hair & Scalp Specialists of New York describes graphically how modern scientifically based treatments differ from the old "one bottle cure-all" methods and explains that 95% of the cases of premature baldness can be helped by professional treatment.

HAIR SPECIALIST HERE TOMORROW TO DEMONSTRATE HOW TO SAVE HAIR AND PREVENT BALDNESS

August 23—Methods for use in your own home by which you can restore thinning hair and stave off baldness will be demonstrated here on Tuesday, August 24, by a famous church specialist of The Church Hair and Scalp Specialists of New York.

He will make his headquarters here at the Hotel Harding where hair worried men and women may call for free consultation and advice. He will conduct private examinations of the scalps of all who call on him between the hours of 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday. He will make recommendations for treatment to those who request them.

Using recently developed methods, The Church Hair and Scalp specialists have proved to thousands over a period of years that their progressive home hair and scalp treatment restores hair in a majority of cases where hair is thinning, thus preventing baldness.

Causes of Thinning Hair

"With few exceptions," Church says, "The scalp that grows 'fuzz' can be reactivated to grow hair to full strength."

Trichologists agree upon certain basic conditions which bring about thinning and sparse areas. Chief among these, but not the only one, is clogged follicles which can be corrected with careful and conscientious treatment.

Examine You Free

"I wish to make it exceedingly clear," Church says, "that you incur no charge or obligation by visiting with me. Your only obligation is to yourself; to free your mind from worries about hair loss by learning how to take care of your hair. If your trouble is beyond the scope of The Church home treatment, I will frankly tell you so. However, less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'Hopeless'!"

Offers No Cure-All

Church says he also wishes it clearly understood that his home treatment is neither "mail order" or "cure-all."

"I, or one of my trained associates always make a personal examination before suggesting any treatment. There is no one remedy that will relieve every one of the 18 scalp disorders known to cause baldness."

Those using the treatment mail regular reports to The Church headquarters where they are studied and changes recommended where necessary.

Also clients are checked personally at regular intervals by a Church specialist.

30 Day Guarantee

The Church Hair and Scalp specialists say, "the best way for a firm to overcome any initial skepticism is to guarantee its product. Therefore, any person found acceptable for treatment by any member of our staff will be given a 30 day guarantee of satisfaction.

"If accumulations of dirt, dandruff and ineffective 'cure-alls' clog these follicles," Church says, "the end result is 'fuzz'."

This Is The Secret

"This 'fuzz' if caught in time, can be nurtured to longer length thereby creating visible thickness. The process is a simple one which anyone may learn and can be practiced successfully in one's own home."

For Home Use Only

Church Hair and Scalp specialists have devoted years of study to prepare this individualized home treatment.

"Almost all of the professional work now being done in the field of hair and scalp is confined to the larger metropolitan areas where permanent clinics are established," Church says, "yet it seems to me that people who have made their homes in smaller cities are entitled to the same professional care. It is my objective to make professional treatment available to all who seek it."

Under this guarantee the most sceptical of persons may make an honest effort to explore the possibilities of the treatment without risking a penny.

Scientists Blow Bubbles

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — (UP) — Scientists at General Electric Co. metallurgy laboratory have built special glass cells for blowing soap bubbles.

Dr. Robert L. Fullman, research associate in the lab, says it's not all in fun. He said soap bubbles resemble crystals, or grains, of metals, and laboratory bubbles are used to explain metal behavior.

Heating of metal causes some grains to enlarge and others to shrink and disappear, just as in soap bubbles, Fullman said.

The Skimobile at North Conway, N. H., is the only up-mountain device of its kind in the world.

Truman Fooled Around On Piano at Early Age

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, in Milwaukee recently played a history-making piano - duet with James C. Petrillo, said he never took up playing the piano seriously.

"I fooled around with it until I was about 14," Mr. Truman said, "and then got interested in politics. I guess a lot of people would have been happier if I had stuck to the piano."

Farewell to Suspense

"Suspense" went off the air after its final show last Tuesday night after a TV run of more than five years. Starting next week "Danger" will move into the "Suspence" slot (CBS-TV 9:30 p.m. EDT Tuesdays) and "Life With Father" will go into "Danger's old spot a half hour later.

J. CROSBY

"Suspense" has not always been high art, exactly, but I mourn its passing because it has done some mighty interesting things, especially lately, and it has had a colorful history. It started as a radio show—there wasn't any TV then — way back in the dark days when NBC had plucked away most of CBS' shows. In desperation, CBS had to develop some of its own shows and "Suspense" was one of the first.

IN THIS SORT of spade work which was dictated entirely by necessity, CBS first gained the experience and the courage to develop its own shows rather than let an ad agency bring them in. This tradition of its own program development was carried over into television and has been a very healthful as well as prosperous thing for the network.

Originally, "Suspense" hewed closely to a formula of a single terror-provoking situation. A group of people would be lodged with a maniac in a cabin on top of a mountain all night — that sort of thing. Constricting as this formula was, a lot of very good radio writers managed to extract a lot of juice out of it in character portrayal and psychological analysis.

After a while, though, this strict adherence to formula began to provoke more ennui than terror and "Suspense" moved on to other things. In the early days of television, when no one quite knew what they were doing, "Suspense" pioneered in the complex and then unknown art of telling a story with a live TV camera and stumbled on a lot of techniques that are now routine.

FOR ONE THING, in a burst of realism, it got the cameras out of the living room and into the alleys and the hallways, the docks and the streets and the subways where pictures told more than a thousand words of dialogue. Some of these early ones were little gems of short stories — taut, simple and uncluttered.

During the last year, "Suspense", in a burst of honesty, has concentrated on two types of stories — documentaries based on actual happenings and classics of one sort or another. The last two productions were good examples of each.

A week ao Tuesday the story concerned a veteran detective, just on the brink of retirement, who hears his niece has been murdered. He sets out not only to catch the killer but to kill him. To forestall him, the rest of the Homicide Bureau sets out after the killer, too.

The bureau has lately installed a lot of IBM machines and all the latest gadgets of crime detection. The veteran, though, is going after his killer in the old-fashioned way he'd used all his life and the thing became an exciting race between the IBM machines and traditional sleuthing. The IBM machines won by an eyelash.

LAST TUESDAY "Suspense" went out in a blaze of glory with a Gore Vival adaptation of Nobel prize winner William Faulkner's story, "Barn Burning," a combination of two awfully fine writing talents. This is a brooding, atmospheric piece of Faulknerian ferocity about a war hero who can't readjust himself to his life as a sharecropper.

The sharecropper has a young boy through whose eyes the story is told, whom he lugs through the southland in an ancient Ford truck. The sharecropper nurses his grievances and his resentments until they explode into violence, which kills him and frees the terrified youngster from his terrible blood bondage. It wasn't perhaps the best of Faulkner but it was darned good television.

Vargas Ouster Asked in Brazil

New Latin-American Political Crisis Brews

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's long stewing political crisis boiled over today with the air force demanding the resignation of President Getulio Vargas and the army giving him solid support.

For a time last night the guard around the presidential palace was doubled, but later the reinforcements were withdrawn. Early today only one civil guard was seen at the gate and one military policeman walked a beat beside the building.

Army tanks were reported to have been ordered to take positions at the palace, but apparently they turned back en route and never reached there.

The crisis developed Sunday following a meeting of air force general officers led by Lt. Gen. Eduardo Gomes, twice a presidential candidate and titular head of the National Democratic Union.

4-State Area Searched for Missing Plane

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's search for an Air National Guard pilot missing since early Saturday continued today. The pilot is Capt. Frank H. Stearn Jr., 35, of Chadds Ford, Pa.

Civil Air Patrol and Air National Guard units searched a four-state area for Stearn and his F-86 Sabrejet yesterday. Ohio's CAP had 64 planes scanning the state to see if the plane landed or crashed here.

Stearn last was heard from four minutes after takeoff from the New Castle Airport in Delaware. He was enroute to Omaha, Neb. He is base operations officer of the 142nd Fighter-Bomber Squadron of the ANG at Delaware and a combat veteran of World War II and the Korean War.

Two crash boats also searched Chesapeake Bay. Stearn last radioed that he was over the bay.

Big 4 Rubber Talks Resume

Goodyear, Firestone Walkouts Continue

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Negotiations resumed today between the CIO United Rubber Workers and the nation's four major rubber companies — two strikebound and two whose employes are working on a day-to-day basis without contracts.

So far, bargainers have reported no progress in their talks. The main point at issue is the union's demand that the firms correct what the union calls interplant wage inequities.

A union spokesman has said the URW believes "it is necessary that all plants be paid the same wages so that there will be no incentive for the companies to move operations from place to place."

Strikebound are The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., whose 23,000 production workers across the country went out 47 days ago and The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., with 22,000 idle for 11 days. Negotiations for both firms are being carried on in Cleveland.

Also talking contract are The B. F. Goodrich Co., at meetings in Cincinnati, and The U.S. Rubber Co., in New York.

Rural Registration Closes Wednesday

Board of elections registrars in 15 rural voting precincts registered 604 county residents Saturday. Added to the 942 eligible voters who registered Thursday in the 15 precincts, this brings the total to 1,546, less than half of the estimated 3,784 eligible voters who must register from these precincts in order to vote in the November election.

On-the-spot registration in the 15 precincts will conclude Wednesday. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4 to 9 p.m. After that day, voters must register in the elections board office in the Courthouse. Deadline is Sept. 22.

Registering in the individual precincts Saturday were the following number of persons: Bowling Green Township, 46; Caledonia village, 68; Claridon Township North, 30; Claridon Township South, 42; Grand Township, 18; Grand Prairie Township, 24; Green Camp Township, 40; Green Camp village, 39; Montgomery Township, 54; Morral-Salt Rock Township, 35; New Bloomington - Montgomery Township, 40, Scott Township, 38; Tully Township, 41; Waldo village, 44; Waldo Township, 45.

30 Seized at Chanute Field

Youth Terrorist Group Infiltrates U.S. Air Base

CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Air Force officials announced yesterday that 30 young airmen had been seized as suspected members of a secret youth terrorist society they called "Pachuco."

Col. Grover Wilson, technical training group commander at the base, said the men are in the guardhouse being held for questioning.

He said the questioning concerned "acts of violence and lawlessness ranging from AWOL offenses and marijuana addiction to knife assaults on those who had informed on the gang after signing a pledge in blood to obey 'the laws of Pachuco.'"

The Air Force revealed that Lt. Robert D. Whitley, chief of the juvenile division of the Los Angeles Police Department, flew to Chanute Friday to aid in the roundup.

Wilson said Whitley briefed air police on how the Pachuco organization operates since he has had experience with similar gangs on the West Coast.

Saturday morning, segments of the base's complement of 15,000 airmen were assembled and ordered to strip to the waist. Some 175 were found with "unexplained marks or tattoes." Many carried switch-blade knives.

After extensive questioning, all but 30 of the 175 were released but kept under post arrest. The remaining men, said Col. Wilson, were "surly and arrogant and living up to the code of Pachuco."

He said all had a "sign of Pachuco" carved into their palms or chest. This sign, he said, resembles a cross, with slashes added to honor "particularly outstanding acts of violence committed by the member."

He said he had a Pachuco "code" in his possession under which no information must be given law enforcement officials and requiring that knives be carried at all times.

Lt. Whitley said Pachuco gangs are common the West Coast and usually are made up of "young hoodlums of Mexican extraction." However, Col. Wilson said the men at Chanute are "young toughs of all nationalities and seem to follow no pattern of race or background."

He said he expects court-martial charges will be made against the gang members.

3 Killed, 7 Injured As Gas Roars Out Of Blast Furnace

CLEVELAND — Gas roaring out of a blast furnace at the American Steel & Wire Co. killed three workmen today and injured seven others.

A spokesman for the United Steel Co. Division said the workers were preparing to shut down a furnace for repairs when the accident happened.

Climbing 75 feet to the top of the furnace, a workman opened the door to the gas washer and was immediately felled as the fumes rushed out.

He was not identified immediately.

The others were knocked out trying to rescue the first man.

Among the dead was George March, 37, of Chagrin Falls, superintendent of the firm's central furnaces.

Another killed was Casimer Smolinski, 47, of Parma.

The third to die was not identified immediately.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircraft industry shares were strong today as the rest of the stock market sagged in early afternoon.

Trading was moderate around Friday's 2,110,000 shares.

Demand was insistent for the stocks of warplane builders and companies in allied industries including some who have a stake in the atomic energy program. Many gains went from 1 to around 3 points.

On the other hand, there were losses in key areas. The steels didn't do very well. Chemicals were usually lower. Electrical equipments were down.

The railroads did fairly well. Some oils advanced. A few airlines, especially strike - free American, were higher.

Montgomery Ward shot ahead on proxy fight possibilities, and also higher were Republic Aviation, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Bell Aircraft, General Dynamics, Vanadium, Homestake Mining, New York Central, and United Air Lines.

Lower were Santa Fe Railroad, Western Union, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, strike-bound Kennecott Copper, Allied Cemical (which opened late on a block of 1,600 shares off 2 at 94), General Electric, American Woolen, and International Paper.

Spanish War Veterans Mark 50th Anniversary of Founding

Fiftieth anniversary observance by Marion Camp 32, United Spanish War Veterans, and the auxiliary Friday was marked by a dinner at noon at the Grotto Hall honoring the two remaining charter members. They are T. E. Andrews and C. O. Midlam. Among the 50 members and guests attending were state and camp and auxiliary officers from Columbus.

Gifts were presented the honored couples, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Midlam, from the camp and the auxiliary by Mrs. Elmer Bondley, first president of the auxiliary which was founded 48 years ago.

Tables for the dinner were decorated in keeping with the golden anniversary theme. Mrs. Edan Shetterly, auxiliary president, gave greetings and conducted a business session.

Those present from Columbus were A. W. Martin, state commander, George Rakestraw, adjutant, and Mrs. Rakestraw, E. T. Cunningham, senior vice commander of the Columbus Camp, and Mrs. Margaret Polzer, president of the Columbus Auxiliary, and Mrs. Elsia Corson, auxiliary secretary.

A highlight of the program was the report of the historian, Mrs. Erma Melby. She pointed out that the Spanish-American War was this country's first "war for humanity"; it produced the only 100 per cent volunteer army the world has ever known; it is the "only war that has paid dividends" such as the resulting construction of the Panama Canal and passing of the National Defense Act; it furnished every commander in World War I "from the Commander-in-chief down"; it was the first American war on foreign soil. It was fought with poor equipment and food; the soldiers received no bonuses, no war risk insurance, no adjusted compensations, no vocational training, and no hospitalization, until 1922.

Chartered April 18, 1904, under approval of William E. English, commander-in-chief of the national organization, Marion Camp had 16 members at that time. Mr. Andrews as the first commander here. During its 50 years, the group has had a total of 162 members and now has 33. One member, Dr. E. H. Morgan, was reported ill in University Hospital at Columbus.

The charter members besides Andrews and Midlam were listed as Finley M. Wolfe, J. A. Early, Harry L. Love, Harry Brunn, Ernst Boger, James W. McMurray, Fred S. Titus, Edward Hess, Louis Day, H. D. Pryor, Neal Andrews, W. P. Schafer, C. B. Shetterly and Frank L. Jordan.

Memphis Man Named Bucyrus Shop Foreman

"NO RED TAPE"

You get a 3-way bonus in the car that's soaring to new success

WHAT has happened in the automobile business this year is something that you should take to heart—as a personal benefit to yourself, and as a sure way to pick a winner.

It is this: Buick has moved into the charmed circle of America's three top sales leaders—a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three."

In plainer words—Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these so-called "low-price three." And this has come about because of Buick's year-ahead styling, great V8 power, big-car room and comfort—all for prices starting right close to the lowest. So you reap a worth-while 3-way benefit.

1. You get the look of tomorrow—today

In Buick today you get the modern styling other cars will reach in the future. For here you get true year-ahead beauty—long, low glamor lines, sports-car grace, and that spectacular new panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955.

2. You get the bigger allowance of our volume business

The tremendous sales volume that has brought Buick into the leadership circle of the "Big Three" means that we can offer you a higher trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. That's the simple reason why we can make you a better deal right now.

3. You get more resale dollars when you trade

You can figure it yourself. With Buick so advanced in style this year it's a sure thing that Buick will stay in style for the years to come, as other cars catch up. So the new Buick you buy today brings you a higher resale price when trade-in time comes around. Drop in—see and drive this tomorrow-styled Buick—and get in on Buick's big 3-way bonus right now.

Grocery Lists Missing From Modern Markets

WILMINGTON, Del. — (UP) — The grocery shopping list has become as old-fashioned as the cracker barrel.

Today's average super-market shopper, the woman with the tote cart loaded with children and food, makes seven out of 10 buying decisions after she enters the store. She goes without shopping list, and she spends less than one minute in buying each item.

These habits of the shopper are the highlights in the latest of a continuing series of consumer studies made by Du Pont.

Women still do most of the food buying, the study showed, but Dad and the children also influence purchases.

Du Pont said the 1954 study showed the average rate of "impulse" buying is 48 per cent, compared with 38.4 per cent in a 1949 study. The company checked the habits of 5,000 shoppers during a Monday through Saturday week, including evenings.

Stronger Bearish Trend Noted

Signs Indicate Stock Boom Near Peak

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street is beginning to ask how high a bull market can climb if business in general doesn't climb with it

The bulls say it can go on climbing because: 1 The future of business looks good for the long run, 2 Washington is in a mood to give business a break—to throw no stumbling blocks in its way to nudge it if it dawdles, and 3 Many stocks have had little or no part in the 11-month climb and are moving into position now to carry on the gains, even should the blue chips take a rest

But on Friday the 13th the New York Stock Exchange counted noses of the bears and found that the short interest was the lushest since April 1932

THE SHORT interest is the total of shares which have been sold short by bears That is, those who think stock prices are going down borrow shares to sell at the current price level with the idea that later on they can buy shares at a lower price to replace the ones they've borrowed If it turns out that way, they pocket the difference between the high price at which they sold and the lower price at which they bought If they guess wrong they have to pay more than the price at which they sold

Bears currently have sold short a total of 3,097,590 shares You have to go back to the spring of 1932 to find a higher total. That doesn't make today's short interest as big percentagewise as the one in 1932 There are a lot more corporate shares outstanding now than back in the thirties so today's bears aren't as large a part of the market But they're a larger part now than a month ago, or for quite awhile back

BULLS ARE still in the majority and in control But bears are growing bolder. Part of their pessimistic view traces to the long rise of stock prices To bears, stocks seem ripe now, by the law of averages, for a tumble

Bulls have convincing arguments for their long-term optimism over the future of the economy. But, without taking sides, let's look at the points the bears are making

Prices of many stocks have risen while the earnings of the companies involved haven't at all, or at best by a much smaller percentage In other words these stocks aren't as big a buy now as a year ago

Dividend payments have tended higher this year, but their advance is far smaller than the climb in the price of stocks In other words, the yield has dropped—you get a lower percentage of return now on the amount of money you must pay for the stocks that have gained greatly in price.

EARNINGS prospects, in general, aren t as brilliant now as in former years despite the healthy tone of the economy Tax cuts help, but from now on—the bears argue—the chances of sales totals climbing are, at the best, doubtful because of the growing competition in most industries And even when sales are pushed higher, in many cases profit margins are narrowing Again, its competition that squeezes margins, because prices must be held down although operating costs tend always to rise.

The bears have technical arguments, too, about the short-term condition of the market And of course, the views of the bears and bulls vary for each corporation As November approaches the electoral chances of the two political parties will enter the market picture increasingly.

The bulls are still calling the tune And the public, edging into the market now, is swelling the number of the bulls But the bears are growling a little louder each day

Meigs County Official Shoots Ex-Son-In-Law

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff Charles Russell said a charge of shooting with intent to kill may be filed today against a Meigs County commissioner who has admitted shooting his former son-in-law.

The victim, Grover Calvert, 29, was in serious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital at Parkersburg, W Va., with a wound in the right side. He was transferred there from Meigs General Hospital here.

Russell said Commissioner Roy Proffitt, 47, of nearby Racine gave himself up after the shooting last Saturday.

The shooting resulted, Russell said, from an argument over Calvert's visitation rights to his child, now living with the mother at Proffitt's home. The Calverts are divorced.

The commissioner was released on his own recognizance, the Sheriff said.

Since 1930 the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild has awarded 123 university scholarships valued at $400,500 to national winners in its annual model car building competition.

Vote Asked on Transfer Of Scott School District

A resolution has been filed with the Marion County Board of Election asking that the question of approval of transfer of territory from Scott local school district be placed on the November ballot.

Qualified electors of Scott school district will cast their votes for or against the transfer of territory to Tully Caledonia, and Grand Prairie School districts.

Police Pick Up Weapons Used In Girl Slaying

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Police continued questioning 17-year-old Bernard Schreiber today about the Aug. 12 assault-slaying of a girl his own age, Mary Jolene Friess.

The round shouldered youth, who police quoted Friday as admitting the crime, changed his story slightly Saturday after talking with the Rev. E. J. Connolly at St. Patrick's Church here.

First Schreiber said he and a 12-year-old boy waited in some bushes to waylay the girl as she rode her bicycle through a lonely area to and from a mail box.

Schreiber said the boy hit the girl with a piece of wood, knocking her off the bike. Then he added that the boy ran away while he chased the girl then stabbed her with a three-inch pocket knife.

After talking with the priest, Schreiber changed the story, saying the boy had used a hoe handle and that his weapon had been a six-inch hunting knife.

He took detectives to a fence near his home in nearby Sylvania and pointed out the hoe handle. Police already had the hunting knife.

Trench Silo Permanent, Kentucky Farmers Find

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP)—Nearly as many trench silos were built by Kentucky farmers last year as all other kinds of silos together, the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture reported.

If properly constructed the trench silo may now be considered a permanent type of silo, instead of one for temporary or emergency use, engineers at the school said.

To be satisfactory, a trench silo must have an impervious floor, a protective coating of some type for the side walls, and the approaches to the silo should be paved with rock or gravel.

Several materials are used in covering the silage after the trench is filled. The main objective is to keep air out regardless of the materials and methods applied.

Heat Wave, Heavy Thundershowers Hit Lakes Region

By The Associated Press

The high Plains States had cooler weather today but the Rockies and most of the rest of the country was warming up again.

Widespread and locally heavy thundershowers stretched northward from Texas and Louisiana across the Central States to the western Great Lakes region.

Sunday night Mason City, Iowa, scene of the plane crash which took 11 lives, had 3.77 inches of rain within less than six hours.

Some other six-hour amounts were Grantsburg, Wis., .96 inch, Minneapolis 78, Omaha 80, Lamar, Colo. 67 and Midland Tex. .55. New Orleans reported 1.34 inches for a 24-hour period and Dallas, Tex., 1.10.

Except for the Central Belt and a few light showers in the Pacific Northwest, Louisiana and Florida the rest of the nation had mostly fair weather.

Marionite Hurt In One of Four Area Accidents

James R. Stahl, 59, of 547 S. Main St., suffered a strained back Saturday in a one-car accident in Wyandot County. The mishap was one of four outside Marion County which state highway patrolmen from Marion investigated over the weekend.

Stahl was driving east on a township road in Wyandot County, about one and one-half miles north of the Marion County line, when his car ran off the road on the right side, veered back onto the pavement and crashed across the road into a farm fence. Both sides of the car were slightly damaged. The accident occurred at 9:15 a.m.

The driver, who was traveling alone was not treated immediately for the injury but went later to a family physician.

At 10:40 a.m. Saturday, patrolmen investigated a mishap on U. S. Route 42, two and three-tenths miles south of Route 314 in Morrow County, in which four vehicles were involved. Cars driven by Joseph Rokita, 56, of Buffalo, N. Y., Paul Williams, 21, of Cleveland, Lloyd Dunne, 26, of Bellville, and a truck driven by John E. Trago, 36, of Columbus, were all going south on Route 42 and approaching a construction area. A flagman had signaled the vehicles to stop. The three cars came to a standstill, but the truck driven by Trago rammed into the rear of the Dunne car, which hit the back of Williams' auto, which in turn hit the rear of the Rokita car. No one was injured.

Trago was arrested for failure to stop within assured clear distance and was issued a citation to appear in Mayor Emery Murphys court at Mount Gilead on Aug. 25.

Damage to the four vehicles included minor to the rear of the Rokita car and the Trago truck, moderate to the rear and minor damage to the front of Williams' car and extensive damage to the front and rear of the Dunne auto.

Eleanor Marie Schad, 42, of Mansfield, escaped injury Saturday at 5:50 p.m. when her car skidded into a ditch along U. S. Route 42, one and two-tenths miles north of State Route 314 in Morrow County. She was attempting to pass a southbound car when she saw a car approaching from the other direction and drove into the ditch on the east side to avoid a collision. The right side and front end of her car were badly damaged.

An unidentified motorist sideswiped a car driven by Henry Baker, 76, of near Mount Gilead at 7:15 p.m. Saturday on Route 42, one and three-tenths miles south of Route 314, and caused the Baker car to crash into a ditch. The unknown car was attempting to pass the Baker car on the right side and hit the auto, sending it across the highway and into a ditch. Damage to the front and right rear side was minor and Baker was not injured.

Bull Market Booms

Stock Market Highest Since 1929 Peak

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ended this week at its highest level since the days of crisis in October, 1929.

But in extending the bull market into its 12th consecutive month, there were scattered signs of diminishing vigor.

Monday's market was the strongest of the week, featuring the most agressive leadership. Oils discovered support strong enough to carry railroads, utilities, steels and most of the rest of the market to new high ground.

The session featured gains of five points by Standard Oil (NJ) and four points by Cities Service.

Oils took over the market's leadership again Tuesday and they were joined by the motors. The approved merger of Packard Motors and Studebaker apparently renewed confidence in the highly competitive auto industry. But during the final hour, steels turned reactionary as E. T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corp., said there is "very little prospect" of improvement in the steel industry.

That was the excuse necessary for many investors to take some of the profits accumulated over the past year. The resultant decline affected aircrafts, railroads, chemicals and most utilities. But motors and oils held firm.

On Wednesday and Thursday, there was much packing and filling as volume declined and interest centered on special situations. Sperry and Northrop jumped on stock splits and dividend increases Chrysler climbed as the company promised stockholders sparkling new models and high pressure selling tactics.

American Telephone & Telegraph improved after the company announced a new non - convertible bond issue. In the past few years, AT&T has sold debentures convertible into common stock. Other stocks, which have been neglected in recent weeks, drew attention, Montgomery Ward and Hilton Hotels moved up sharply.

On Friday, the market climbed into new high ground, as measured by The Associated Press average of 60 stocks. Steels, aircrafts and gold mining issues led the way and railroads were coming on at the final gong. But volume was the lowest in nearly a month and the number of issues traded shrank to 1,172—smallest since July 2.

Brokerage houses generally agreed that this was a week of consolidating gains. Investment quality issues, which have participated fully in the upswing of the past 11 months, had difficulty gaining ground.

But the so-called secondary issues — medium and low priced stocks of a speculative nature—attracted more and more buyers Stocks yielding 6 per cent or higher have begun to find favor. Most market analysts now claim that if strong demand develops for these secondary issues, it will provide the basis for a new advance by the market's traditional leaders

This week the New York Stock Exchange disclosed that short interest at the middle of the month had climbed to 3,079,590 shares—most since April 4, 1932.

The higher short interest position was generally viewed as a bullish factor. If the market should turn downward, the "short" traders will act to cushion the decline by their purchases. If the market should rise, these traders may add impetus to the rise by buying to curtail their losses.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were Packard up ⅛ at 2⅞ on 218,000 shares; Graham Paige up ⅛ at 15⅝; Columbia Gas up at 15⅛; Montgomery Ward up 6⅝ at 74½ and Northrop Aircraft up 5¼ at 48⅛.

The five most active issues on the American Exchange was Associated Laundries up ½ at 2¼; North Canadian Oils up ½ at 3⅝; Ford Motor Co. of France up 5-16 at 1¾; Webb & Knapp unchanged at 1⅛ and Great American Industries up ½ at 4¼.

Roundup of Communists Ordered in Philippines

MANILA (AP) — President Ramon Magsaysay, reported concerned over recent reports of Communist infiltration of the Philippines, last night ordered the armed forces to round up an estimated 6,000 Indonesians who have entered the country illegally.

A House of Representatives subcommittee currently is investigating Red movement into the Philippines from Indonesia.

Rowdyism Breaks Out in Stockholm During Heat Wave

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Stockholm's perennial hot weather riots floared again yesterday with the usual busted noggins as thrill seekers let off steam. Police, as in past outbreaks, rounded up prostitutes, hoodlums and other veteran trouble makers.

Several persons were painfully injured. One man was tossed through a show window into an art gallery and was rushed to a hospital with a slashed artery. A policeman who tried to help him into an ambulance had his jaw busted by a group of hoodlums.

Police arrested 32 persons, including one prostitute who ran through the streets disrobing as authorities tried to haul her into a car.

Prostitutes have been blamed for touching off most of the midsummer riots, but everyone seems agreed that the crowds join in just for the thrills.

Practical Joker's Handcuff Gag Not So Funny, He Finds

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick Hastings, 29, thought it would be a wonderful joke to handcuff his friend Pvt. James Speer to his bride of a few hours Joan, and then mail the keys to Alaska.

So he bought a pair of heavy-duty handcuffs for $15 and took them along to the wedding reception at a Brooklyn hotel.

But Speer and his new wife ducked out early, and there were the handcuffs, sitting in their box, So. . . .

At 4 a.m., after two emergency squad cops had worked an hour and a half to clip off the manacles, Hastings didn't think the joke was so funny.

Somebody at the party had handcuffed Hastings to his own wife.

Another Kind of Competition

Latest in a series of surprises that began with the Soviet Union's ability to set off an atomic explosion years before United States scientists had thought it would be possible is the apparent development of a Russian jet engine more powerful than anything presently available in the United States.

Information to this effect has set up an apprehensive buzzing in the Pentagon because competition in jet engines is the key to aviation supremacy. Once more, as in the case of Russian mastery of nuclear fission years before it was expected to happen, a pointed question is being asked:

Will the United States be able to compete successfully on a voluntary basis with the brainpower resources of totalitarian Russia?

It is known that the Soviet Union has made an official project of scientific and technologic education. It is spending large sums of money on research. An assured reserve of well trained scientific personnel is being developed systematically. In the United States, on the other hand, there already is an acute shortage of research scientists and engineers, and it will grow worse unless manpower draft policies are reformed.

The National Science Foundation, established by Congress in 1950, is trying to encourage advanced training in science, but the money that has been made available to it for scholarships is only a token of what would be needed to train the brainpower which will determine the balance of world power in the years to come.

The United States will not lose in competition with the Soviet Union for scientific and engineering supremacy; that is a safe bet. But it likewise is a safe bet that the United States will not win unless it puts as much stress on brainpobwer as it puts on manpower.

Garrison Strategy

The Defense Department's withdrawal of four divisions from Korea will leave a garrison strength of two divisions in that country. This will constitute what militarists call a "calculated risk."

The entire principle of international security based on garrisons is a calculated risk. Since this is shaping up as the main reliance of United States strategy, it needs to be understood.

The United States cannot go to war on its own initiative. It cannot strike the first blow. Its security depends on its ability to counter-punch quickly and effectually after an adversary strikes the first blow.

Despite disillusionment in Korea, the United States did counter-punch on that strategic Asian peninsula quickly and effectually. It did not destroy its adversary, but neither was it destroyed. With the token help of some members of the United Nations, it fought a would-be invader to a standstill.

It is considered unlikely the invader will reopen an attack in Korea. Thus, a garrison of several divisions backed up by Korean troops would be adequate. Meanwhile, the strategy of the United States in the Asian area will call for preparations to offset the next overt move of the Communist bloc.

This is likely to be aimed at Formosa. If not Formosa, then Thailand may be the next scene of action. Wherever it happens, the United States must be ready to counter-punch. This will be a way of life for Americans for years to come.

American troops will be garrisoned wherever trouble seems likely to break out. Wherever possible, as in Japan, Korea, Formosa and Germany, they will be backed up by local military strength. They will derive mobility from the U. S. Navy and Air Force. They will be deployed and redeployed endlessly, shifting to meet the moves of the Communist bloc. The United Stteas cannot strike first, but it can start counter-punching at the crack of a gun.

Diplomatic Persuasion

A Reuters dispatch from Peiping mentions a bit of news about the kind of diplomatic persuasion being used on visiting British Laborites that should shake the foundations of the western world.

"Eight British Labor party leaders on a good-will tour of Communist China," says the Reuters dispatch, "sat down with Premier Chou En-lai at a lavish banquet and watched dances by elfin-like Indonesian girls."

When this sizzling item of international pressure politics has been appraised by some non-elfin-like British spouses left at home by the junketing Labor party leaders, there is going to be pressure brought to bear from a new source. It would not be surprising to learn that Messrs. Attlee, Bevan and male associates who have gone to Red China to study conditions there had decided to represent Britain on another kind of diplomatic mission—to pacify their wives.

There are no hard-and-fast rules governing diplomatic persuasion. Dancing girls were customary in olden days, when all diplomacy was personal. But the idea had got around that modern diplomacy was institutional and statistical—a quid pro quo exchange of facts and figures . . .

"Elfin-like Indonesian girls." Facts and figures. Hah!

Ike Proves Good Prophet

Administration Record Top Issue in 1954

WASHINGTON (AP)—If a political campaign can be said to have an official opening, it will come tonight when President Eisenhower talks to the nation on the Republicans' two years in power.

All 435 House seats and 37 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake in November's congressional election. Control of Congress was at issue two years ago too when Eisenhower swept into the White House while Republicans as a party barely edged through to a paper-thin majority in Senate and House.

The campaign picture is different today.

In 1952 Eisenhower was a war hero, untested in the presidency. His Republicans, asking control of Congress, could point more to promises than performance. They had run Congress only two out of the past 20 years.

Now the Republicans have had two years to perform.

EISENHOWER CAN claim to have been a pretty good prophet on at least two counts, unless campaign talk takes an unexpected shift

1. He predicted late in 1953, when he had been in office less than a year, that Communists in government would be a memory, and not an issue, in the 1954 campaign. Republicans had made it a main issue against the Democrats in 1952.

2. He predicted the big issue this year would be the program of his administration which he called "progressive" and "dynamic." There will be other issues but this seems sure now to be No. 1.

Eisenhower's optimism that Reds in government would not be a major campaign talking point this year was based on the argument that by then his administration would have pretty well cleaned them out.

Whether the administration has or not, there has been very little talk about this subject in recent months, except by Sen. McCarthy.

THE WISCONSIN Republican for months had banged away at the Army for not getting rid of suspects faster. And he had talked of investigating, but never did, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It was plain Eisenhower wouldn't let him investigate the CIA, the American superspy and counterspy outfit. As the elections near, McCarthy has been talking of subversives in defense plants, not in government.

As for the Republican program, Democratic leaders already have said they would make it — at least the farm-labor-tax-power business policy part of it—a No. 1 target in the campaign.

Eisenhower himself, when he took over the presidency, sometimes gave the impression of a man who thought all he had to do, or perhaps should do, was suggest a program to Congress. After that it was up to Congress.

But he learned that part of the presidency is fighting for a program, either in public statements or in behind-the-scenes wire pulling and head - to -head conversations.

After two years in office he apparently remains an immensely popular President. The voters in November will show how popular a Republican Congress is.

IN ITS FIRST session the 83rd Congress was no ball of fire. But Eisenhower had presented it with a very modest program. Being new in the job, he used that first year in getting ready for the second one.

This year he hit Congress with a truly extensive program, machine-gunning his proposals up to the Capitol in the early months of 1954.

For a while it seemed this might be a truly do-nothing Congress. It loped along. Its activity was eclipsed, and probably delayed, by the 36 days of Army-McCarthy hearings.

Once the hearings were out of the way Congress got down to lawmaking and hit a fiery pace in its last weeks. On Friday, a few hours before Congress folded, White House aides proclaimed proudly what had been done.

Sixty-five bills, they said, had been requested by the President and only 11 had failed to pass. That, of course was speaking of lawmaking in quantity.

The Democrats have already started arguing back about the quality, and also about what was left undone.

Baby's New Formula

By TRUMAN TWILL

First, there was an era when babies were raised by the Grandma Formula: The oldest childbearer laid down the law because she had the most experience.

This was too good to last, besides being an endless source of friction between the others of yesteryear and th mothrs of the moment. So the Grandma Formula for raising babies was cast out in favor of the Baby Book Formula.

The baby book came in assorted sizes, editions and degrees of knowledge. Some of the best books, as might have been expected, were written by spinsters of both sexes. Having no children to clutter their thoughts and theories, they could speak freely.

The baby book business was a gold mine. There was a book for every pocketbook and inclination—even one masterful publication distributed at cost by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In due course of time, the country was full of babies that had been "raised by the book."

To be sure, sometimes the book was lost, and sometimes it was thrown away in anger and despair when parents discovered there was a vast difference betwen writing a book and subduing a yelling brat at 3 a.m. They frequently concluded, in righteous indignation, that if the people who wrote baby books raised babies, instead, the books wouldn't be written.

Their authors would learn something that finally is revealed to all mothers and fathers by divine revelation—that there is no substitute for the common sense that most people have hidden away inside themsives—that the ordinary parent has about as much savvy in child-raising as the average bird has in nest-building.

For the last few years the idea has been taking root that the best way to raise kids is to do what comes naturally, consisting basically of feeding them when they are hungry, loving when they are lovable, spanking them when they're unruly and otherwise letting them alone.

There has been a wholesale shucking off of ideas about naps on schedule, the danger of taking baths too soon after meals, the importance of being hard-nosed when a pin might be sticking in the infant's tender flesh and the theory that kids are hot-house plants. Things have been much easier than they were in the heyday of book babies.

But until the International Institute of Child psychiatry met in Toronto recently and listened to some of its principal speakers, there was no real authority behind the credo that children should be cared for according to the day-by-day experience of their own fathers and mothers.

There is a time to fetch them a larrup on the side of their hard little noggins, and it won't be found in the index of a book. There is a time to cuddle them close like kittens—and that won't be in a book either. There are times for laughter and times for grumpiness, times for confusion and times for silence.

It's not in a book. It's in the head and heart. When the child psychologists begin to admit it, it must be true. The Baby Book Formula is on its last legs, tottering after the Grandma Formula into oblivion The new formula will be called the Natural Formula, always best in the long run.

Noise Appreciated

SACRAMENTO (AP)—There's one place where a bunch of noisy adolescents is a welcome sight. That is in the special unit for mentally ill adolescents at Napa State Hospital.

The new unit was set up to give about 80 mentally ill teenagers specialize treatment.

"It is much too early for any judgement," said the Mental Hygiene Department in a report, "but at least they are now showing the healthy sign of being noisy on their own wards where they used to just sit and stare on the adult wards."

Case of Missing Meter

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—John J. Bylancik dropped a nickel into a parking meter. When he returned about 50 minutes later, he told the judge, the meter was gone and he had an overtime parking ticket.

The judge learned that the meter had been defective. A patrol man noted that it registered red and ticketed the car. Then meter repair men took it away for an overhaul.

The judge revoked the ticket.

Move On To Limit Writ of Habeas Corpus

By John Sembower

CHICAGO

The legal ruling that freed Roger "The Terrible" Touhy for 48 hours has refueled the move to limit habeas corpus writs, one of the cornerstones of the Constitution.

Sixty state supreme court justices who met here in connection with the annual meeting of the bar association have seized on the granting of the Touhy writ as the rallying point for mobilizing the entire bar behind a move to get Congress at its next session to limit the use of habeas corpus.

The issue also was fought over behind the scenes by the thousands of lawyers who attended the 77th annual meeting of the American Bar Association.

THE MOVEMENT TO LIMIT the writ won the association's support two years ago, but this stand was modified at last year's convention.

Many justices of the state supreme courts have been smarting for a long time under the lash of federal district court judges who have been entertaining petitions filed directly by persons who charge that they were deprived of due process of law when convicted in state court trials.

Now the proposal is that Congress be asked to pass an act forbidding the federal courts to entertain a habeas corpus writ unless it first has been passed on by the state's highest court, and then appeal is to be taken only to the United States Supreme Court. Since the latter is hard-pressed to handle its present cases, it is generally believed that the practical effect would be to drastically curtail its use.

HABEAS CORPUS (which literally means "you hold the body") is traced back to the signing of Magna Carta by King John in England. Under it anyone who is detained may summarily ask a court to look into the circumstances of his imprisonment and to order his release if it is without legal basis.

The writ struck a death blow at the long - unexplained incarcerations which became the badge of tyranny in Europe. The U. S. Constitution provides that it "shall not be suspended unless when in cases of rebellion or the public safety require it."

Federal Judge John P. Barnes freed Touhy on $10,000 bond because he said that his detailed review—since 1948—of the record of the Touhy conviction indicated it was procured on perjured testimony. And that the kidnapping charged against Touhy was a "hoax."

JUDGE BARNES wrote a 600-page 112,000 - word ruling that rocked Illinois political and legal circles. Touhy's prosecutor, Thomas J. Courtney, and his assistant on the case, Wilburt F. Crowley, are both judges themselves now in the state courts of Cook County.

The whole question is headed for the U. S. Supreme Court this fall. Touhy is appealing there against the order of U. S. Court of Appeals Judge Schnackenburg that recommitted him after 49 precious hours of freedom.

In the last few years prisoners in Illinois' Stateville prison have turned en masse to the study of law. With each entitled to buy eight law books, they have built up a law library there which Warden of so many petitions caused larger than that of the Illinois Supreme Court.

An estimated 26,500 petitions have been filed by the convicts, but the odds still are heavily against them since only 25 have won their freedom. Judge Barnes has heard many of them in addition to the Touhy case. The burden of so m any petitions caused the federal judicial conference composed of United States judges recently to adopt a resolution urging a limitation similar to that now advocated by the state justices.

SEVENTY - TWO - YEAR OLD Judge Barnes is highly respected here as chief judge of the U. S. District Court for the northern district of Illinois, where he has served since his appointment by President Herbert Hoover. His legal memoranda are considered formidable works of scholarship. The Touhy ruling is one of his most elaborate and carefully thought-out.

Proposals to limit habeas corpus have been hard-fought throughout United States history. Congress has exercised the prerogative of saying what its limits should be, although in the 1863 review of Lincoln's civil war suspension of the writ, the Supreme Court established its right to review such actions.

Although Congress may be asked to limit habeas corpus now, it has always acted in the past to extend its application in peacetime, as it did in laws passed in 1833, 1842, and 1847.

Smoke Swirling Again

By MARK DANA

With impartial casualness, one might note that the flames of the fall political campaigns are now shooting up scorchingly and quite audibly, and we have the President of the United States, his former opponent for the Presidency, and scores of lower-rated dignitaries stirring up dust, with a few chunks of mud being hurled.

Things will get worse before they will get better, and for an "off year" with clear-cut partisan issues scarce a few months ago, some fierce word battles are now getting up steam. Nobody will change any already - made - up minds, of course, and a lot of statesmen will reveal themselves as quite human guys within the next few weeks.

Yet after all, it's a natural and inevitable procedure of democracy; it evidences rivalry and variances in views; it provides opportunity and even encourages citizens to become emotionally aroused over their own government, and to take an active part in that government.

Who would have things different? Pots affix a "black" label on kettles; molehills swell into mountains as candidates mount stumps; colors once discernibly separate now become confusedly mixed; and out of the barrage of charge and counter - charge will stalk some persons, long apathetic about their public officials, who for a time are earnest if super-heated citizens.

It's all for the good, however trying to the sedate citizens who want their brains, not their passions, as yardsticks. Out of all this hue and cry will come order once again, with every person having had a say in results. That isn't the case in some other countries.

The Once Over

Thoughts on Shore Dinners

This is the height of the shore-dinner season. The shore dinner was invented by a man who decided the test of a meal was the number of dishes, platters, bowls and tools involved. He thought the more it rattled, the better it was. It originated back in the colonial days when banking connections were not necessary to get a five-or six-course "feed" and when every restaurant man thought the customers were hungry. Not so many years ago a shore dinner ran from $1.25 to $3 top. It took longer to read the menu than "Gone With the Wind."

It began with chowder, led into steamed clams, detoured through the bluefish, stopped for a slab of chicken went straight on into a boiled lobster and made detours for corn on the cob, potatoes, salads, apple pie a la mode and coffee. Some places threw in a soft-shelled crab and a beer.

The customers judged the dinner by the number of trips it took a waiter to make complete deliveries. To get a job as a waiter a man had to have won a ribbon in a bunion derby and honorable mention in a circus strong man act. A customer started dinner around 6 P.M. and crossed the finish line around 9, eating hurriedly. He was assisted from the table by a derrick and spent the night among nightmares featuring marauding Indians, leprechauns, witches, cauldrons and romances with the Queen of Sheba.

Today the shore dinner is a shell of its old self and you are charged extra for the shell. You pay more for the clams than you used to pay for the whole works.

The survival of the clam down through history is a wonderful thing, when you consider that it neither looks good nor tastes good. A clam is a locket with sand inside. It is an old-fashioned dollar watch with the works removed and crushed stone substituted.

There is something about a clam that resembles and tastes like the eraser on nickel lead pencil or the plugs they used to mend bicycle tires with.

The top feature of a shore dinner is the lobster. A lobster is a fish in a suit of armor. It is especially popular in New England and along the Eastern Seaboard where the native will not take "No" for an answer and are by instinct rugged with a napkin around their necks.

We prefer ours boiled. It is the fashion to broil them a practice which enables a chef to stuff a lobster so that the flavor of the meat is destroyed, and to burn it so that there can be no doubt that in a battle between a lobster and a fire the flames are always the victors.

A boiled lobster is pretty tasty. But if we had to work as hard to get meat from a cow or sheep we would be a vegetarian. Waiter, no coffee; just bicarb.

A world council of churches in Illinois equipped all the preachers with "hearing head sets" so they could all follow what was said. We wish the clergy would show a little similar concern for congregations. It's amazing how many churches not only still lack a microphone in the pulpit and have preachers who deliver sermons as if in strict confidence, this leaving the worshippers complete lhtnly worshippers completely in the dark. We have noticed that many members of the congregations don't seem to mind missing a sermon, but we think this highly unfortunate and hold to the old-fashioned belief that a sermon should be heard and that there should be moments when the preacher's words are ear-splitting.

Saudi Arabia has notified the U. S. that it will not accept any more financial aid. A decision like this could leave Uncle Sam in a deep faint for weeks.

The recent news about the Studebaker auto plant's settlement of disputes with its workers brings to mind that Studebaker got its start and its fame making wagons and buggies. In our boyhood the name was on most every farm wagon, grocery cart and surrey with the fringe on top.

Raps Power Contract

Mitchell Fires New Blast At Dixon-Yates Project

CHICAGO (AP)—Stephen Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, suggests the Eisenhower administration either delay or withdraw its 107-million-dollar private power plant contract in the TVA area.

Mitchell said yesterday in firing another round at the so-called Dixon-Yates "deal":

"If there is merit in the administration position, it would not harm the project to delay it long enough to focus congressional scrutiny.

"But if the whole deal is the shoddy deal it appears to me, the wisest and most courageous course would be for the administration to withdraw it and admit a mistake."

Mitchell spoke at a Democratic rally in suburban Park Forest south of Chicago.

The administration said Saturday it was pushing toward an early start on the project to supply private power to the Memphis, Tenn., area over lines owned by the Tennessee Vally Authority.

Yesterday the head of another group said its proposal would have saved the government 150 million dollars compared with the Dixon-Yates contract.

Walter von Tesckow said in a statement in New York he felt his group "were treated as interlopers in a well-set program to do business with Dixon-Yates" before the Atomic Energy Commission.

He said his group's estimated cost of construction of the steam-generating power plant was between 90 and 100 million dollars, compared with 120 million in what he called the first Dixon-Yates proposal and 107 and 112 million in their second proposal.

Von Tresckow declared, "We were granted only one meeting with the (atomic energy) commission personnel. We still have not received a detail of their analysis of our proposal, which we were promised."

Administration spokesmen denied previous hints by Mitchell that President Eisenhower's friendship for golfer Bobby Jones had anything to do with the contract award. Jones is a director of one of the firms.

2,200 Workers End Walkout At Power Plant

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—About 2,200 workers returned to their jobs today at the giant Clifty Falls electric power plant being constructed for the Atomic Energy Commission after AFL millwrights withdrew picket lines they set up last Friday.

The National Joint Labor Board in Washington ordered the men back to work during mediation of a jurisdictional dispute between the millwrights and iron workers. Millwrights contended iron workers were doing millwright work.

It was the fourth breif work stoppage in five months at the plant which will provide power for the atomic energy plant near Portsmouth, Ohio. Three of them involved jurisdictional disputes among unions.

ARRANGEMENTS OF white gladioli and asters and lighted candles held in candelabra decorated the altar. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The lace fashioned the bodice and short sleeves and formed two wide panels which extended down the front and back of the skirt. The four-tiered skirt of nylon tulle was worn over taffeta. The neckline created a low and rounded effect and she wore lace mitts. Her fingertip length veil of nylon tulle was caught to a band of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white Testament, belonging to a close friend, Mrs. Paul McClenathan, topped with a white orchid and showered with white ribbon streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Margene Heisel, and bridesmaid was Miss Joan Ault. Their gowns in an aqua shade were fashioned alike with the skirts styled of tiers of lace over nylon net. They carried colonial bouquets of pink rosebuds.

EARL KRIDER, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Richard Clark of Springfield and John Walker of Kansas City, Mo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Duckworth chose a navy blue faille dress with which she combined navy blue and rose accessories. Mrs. Krider was attired in a black and white silk dress with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for 125 guests at the church followed the ceremony. The bride's table held a five-tiered wedding cake decorated in aqua and white and encircled at the base with pink gladioli and green foliage. Lighted white tapers also were on the table. On the mantels were arrangements of gladioli in pastel shades and lighted with tapers. Serving were Mrs. John

Church St. entertained close friends and relatives.

Good Spelling Depends Upon Proper Exposure

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — Ruth Roe claims to know why some people spell badly.

"It's due to "orthographic hypnosis," or, in plain language, too much reading of imaginative spelling.

In short, she said, one bad speller makes another.

As chief mail clerk from Minneapolis-Honeywell here, Miss Roe explained that most of her assistants come to her as fair spellers. But, unless they stay on their toes, daily contact with such peculiar spellings as Sonnywell, Handiwell, Honeybuckets, the Honey Corporation, Honey Well or Minnieappls Honneywell, Miniapoulis, Minniesoda, has a hypnotic effect, and they soon find themselves making the same mistakes.

"We may have our troubles, but the real heroes are the postmen those stalwart fellows who get through in spite of rain, hail, and snow and still get the mail to us whatever the spelling in the addresses."

Patrol Warns Against Moving Highway Signs

Cpl. D. M. DeWalt, in charge of the Marion state highway patrol post, issued a stern warning today that the patrol will prosecute "to the full extent of the law" anyone who removes a stop sign from an intersection.

The warning came about as a result of an incident Friday night at the intersection of Route 98 and Marion County Road 169, where two stop signs were removed.

In addition to the "stiff penalty" for the offense itself, Cpl. DeWalt said that in the event that a fatal accident should result from the act, the patrol would contact the prosecutor concerning filing a charge of manslaughter against the person or persons removing the signs.

The penalty for the offense the first time carries a fine of not more than $50. A second offense within one year would mean a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than 10 days, or both. Each offense thereafter carries a fine of not less than $25 or more than $200 or imprisonment for not more than 30 days, or both. The offender would also be liable to a prison sentence of not less than one year or more than seven years for malicious destruction of another's property.

National Anthem

By George Sokolsky

The British open every public assembly, meeting, theatrical performance, concert, or any other gathering with "God Save the Queen!" and it is considered proper and fitting So this summer, I thought I would do a bit of agitating among the concert - goers at Tanglewood to make it customary to start all concerts with "The Star Spangled Banner."

SOKOLSKY

I once heard Sir Thomas Beecham conduct "The Star Spangled Banner" in Carnegie Hall with a verve and fervor to which Americans are hardly accustomed It almost sounded that he meant

"Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand Between their loved homes and the war s desolation!"

At any rate there were some like-minded ladies who agreed and we talked the thing up. They liked the idea of an agitation over "The Star Spangled Banner.'

MY FIRST experience was a blank stare Perhaps the person thought that I had said the 'Internationale' instead of America s national anthem We listen to Prokofiev and Khatchaturian but "The Star Spangled Banner' — "Well I don t know" he said 'it raises an issue" What issue was not explained, but it was something controversial

Then one of my lady friends came back with the report that she had encountered direct opposition he had been told that it could not be done because it is so dull

I could not make out whether what was meant was that the tune is dull or that having a national anthem is dull. Of course, some of our friends are becoming so sophisticated that anything less than the universe is too small and dull for them

Well, on "Tanglewood on Parade," which is a gala fiesta in the Berkshires, where anything musical can happen, Arthur Fiedler appeared with the "Boston Pops Orchestra" which plays whatever comes to hand, and Fiedler opened his program with Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and the enormous audience let out a thunder of applause with cheers and bravos and it did their hearts good

MAYBE NOBODY will ask Fiedler to come again because he introduced a patriotic note, but the audience loved it

True we had gone in plentifully for Berlioz and we always have Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven and Brahms, but a little baked beans and apple pie go far in New England and the New Yorkers who fill the seats and throw their blankets on the lawn are of a generation that can listen to Berlioz's 'Requiem and enjoy good jazz in their young lives without too much shock

It is like being right wing or left wing in politics but in the middle, it is like something by Hindemith, which, if you like it, you can have it And I fear that the young prefer the romanticists and the jazz-writers but not the discordant moderns who drown them in orchestration without joy or sorrow

I recently recounted the wonders of this year's concerts at Tanglewood, the best in many years, and the most favorable response to the revival of Berlioz, who will undoubtedly become fashionable again, to Alexis Lichine, the French wine merchant who remarked that perhaps this improving taste in music will be reflected in an improving taste in food and liquor.

IT IS A BIT astonishing that young people can steep themselves deeply in good music on a fare of bland frankfurters and greasy hamburgers downed with a cola drink Perhaps to them it will be neither dull nor incongruous to start a concert with a reminder that the United States is a nation

So now that we have had the invasion of the sacred precincts of Tanglewood by "The Stars and Stripes Forever," perhaps it will not be amiss to begin the concerts or even the first concert with "The Star Spangled Banner," and it might even be possible to have some outstanding soprano sing it And this rule could be made to apply to all concerts, baseball games, football games, etc

Occasionally one hears a "compromise "America the Beautiful" or "God Bless America" is played to permit a patriotic note, yet avoiding the national anthem

Perhaps "The Star Spangled Banner" is feared lest it stimulate nationalism thus giving offense to the Indians or the Arab bloc or even God save the mark, the Soviet Universal State

We must be so careful you know, lest we offend the foreigners or they will refuse to take our tainted money

Ike Woos Labor

By Victor Riesel

Here as in Europe, it's always the "masses'—the millions of working people who vote in surging waves, who have the balance of power who must be wooed by those who would lead nations of power And the most ardent wooer of all is Dwight D Eisenhower—now determined not to be labelled anti-labor or an enemy of the masses of 'little people"

RIESEL

The President is making this his personal campaign He has ordered the conservative wing of the Republican party not to get into the public hustings and joust with the labor leaders

He has ignored the bitter barbs and angry criticisms of George Meany and Walter Reuther and has appointed some of their lieutenants to high foreign policy making posts abroad Even now Ike s foreign operations' chief, Harold Stassen meets with and takes advice from such un-Republican intellectuals as Walter Reuther's brother Victor.

IT'S SIGNIFICANT that the man who will head the Paris headquarters of Harold Stassen's and Dwight Eisenhower's labor activities abroad is Barney Taylor, assistant publicity director of the CIO United Automobile Workers Union, whose Detroit headquarters is presided over by Walter Reuther

The entire labor section of the Foreign Operations Administration will in fact be run by men named by Mr Reuther and AFL chief George Meany

This won t still their tough criticism of President Eisenhower's administration as the President will have a chance to discover for himself The President remembers that last year he dispatched Richard Nixon to speak in his behlaf to the 700 leaders of 10 200 000 AFL workers Dick Nixon was booed that day while he addressed the AFL convention in St Louis

This year Eisenhower has ordered his aides to twist and reshuffle his schedule so he personally can get to the AFL convention platform in Los Angeles in September Ike would like to speak at a night session of the convention on Sept 23, I m told But the AFL leaders at the moment anyway are shrugging off White House suggestions that they call a special evening meeting

STILL, EISENHOWER is trying to match his tight travels with their wishes—and if it comes off he ll be the first president since Wilson to speak to an AFL parley

Not the least acid of the President's critics has been the embattled John Lewis, who now sits high astride the greatest pile of unused coal since the soup lines of the thirties For some months now John L has used his aging routine of needling the White House out front while sending emissaries through the back door

And Ike has moved to help the hard stuck coal industry and the 150 000 miners looking for a hard swinging day s work in empty pits Through the Foreign Operations Administration the government has just ordered 200 million dollars worth of coal for shipment to Asiatic and European nations which have little money to buy good quality fuel This will give the industry and the United Mine Workers Union a shot in the pocketbook

It's a victory for John Lewis, who spoke personally to Harold Stassen and Milton Eisenhower—and thus got right to the President with the near tragedy of the coal patches

Another labor group, led by an even more tenacious and blunt talking critic of Eisenhower has just been helped also This is the New Dealish CIO Textile Workers Union led by Emil Rieve

THE OTHER WEEK, the U S Army was ordered to move a lot faster than union officials expected it would The military were told to spend some 20 million dollars for 6 million yards of cloth to speed the changeover of army uniforms from the drab drape of today to snazzy, highly-styled outfits for our GIs

No gigantic order, this But it will provide 4 million man hours or 100,000 work weeks at 40 hours per, mostly in New England There the work is badly needed because the woolen and worsted industry and its workers are hard hit by the cruelty of fashions which have swung to new synthetics blends and lightweight fabrics

The order can't keep New England going for too long a time but at least it's a start—and ordered by Ike

These are just a few highspots There are others The President has for example, cordially received Teamsters' Union chief Dave Beck and discussed a way to open a trucking corridor to west Berlin

The President listens only to the pro-AFL and pro-CIO Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell on labor policy despite explosive anger in other sections of the Republican party

The Democrats ar getting real competition for the labor vote from the man in the White House

Dangerous Job

By Hal Boyle

VALLEJO, CALIF

Leaves from a touring notebook

Just as a mature woman wisely overhauls her charms from time to time the U S Navy is engaged in the continuous task of facelifting its ammunition, too

HAL BOYLE

This is one of its jobs the public rarely hears about But ammunition, like most things in this world, often becomes out-of-date or shows the wear-and-tear of age

Here in the Mare Island shipyard which next month celebrates the 100th anniversary of its founding by Adm David G Farragut a great depot overhauls the ammunition of the long line of ships that come here to drydock It is a strange kind of beauty parlor

THE DEPOT, two-thirds of a square mile in area has 187 buildings, 20 miles of railroad tracks and 25 miles of paved roads

The work is highly skilled and potentially dangerous A single static spark from a human body could cause a disastrous explosion Some 8,000 tons of ammunition are stored in underground bunkers—enough to make a baby A-bomb blast

To prevent the buildup of static electricity the technicians wear "leg irons" that ground them at every step Visitors check their matches and cigarette lighters at the gate

'In the last fiscal year the depot produced 5 130 tons of new ammunition and overhauled 22,622 tons of unserviceable ammunition" said Lt Cmdr William F Gadberry.

WHEN AMMUNITION deteriorates so far that it is too dangerous to be broken down and put to new uses it is taken to sea and dumped

Nice job—if you can get it and enjoy ocean cruising Bound to give a man something to worry about besides seasickness

Few things give a man more of a feeling of the erosion of money than a change in the prices of haircuts and hotel rooms

Somewhere in my youth I got the idea that a quarter was the proper price for a haircut, and that by an eternal law of nature hotel rooms would rent for $2 a night forever

But today in some big American cities it costs $2-a-day-up to park your pet pooch in a dogtel This week I got a haircut in San Francisco The price was $1 50, and I don t have enough hair left to cause the barber to work up a sweat while mowing it Actually, he could have done the job with a pair of fingernail clippers, except barbers like to put drama in their work

"Down in Los Angeles they are talking of putting the price up to $2," he said

SOMEHOW THAT made me feel older than the loss of my first wisdom tooth—the thought that a 1954 haircut might rise to the price of a 1930 hotel room

Whatever happened to the value of a quarter anyway? Will it soon merely be a collector s item—like the buffalo nickel? You can still impress a bellhop with a two-bit tip, but the impression he gets is that you are a two-bit cheapskate

A panhandler stopped me here the other day and asked me" "Brother, can you spare a quarter for a bowl of soup"

I gave him the quarter He took it, fidgeted a moment and said "You know there's a penny tax, too?"

Automatic 'Brain' Gets Complete Overhaul Job

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A giant named UDEC is getting his brain operated on here, and specialists expect to improve his memory six-fold

UDEC is a huge electronic computing machine developed by the Burroughs Corp three years ago Industrial firms bring their complex mathematical problems to it for quick solution

Known generally as the electronic brain, UDEC s name stands for Unitized Digital Electronic Computer The device can handle mathematical problems in a few hours that might take months or years by human or mechanical methods

The 40-foot long U-shaped computer is being taken completely apart When it's reassembled, Burroughs' engineers said, it will solve problems six times as complex as before The device is composed of some 4,000 vacuum tubes mounted in 650 electronic blocks

The UDEC generates so much heat that a seven-ton air conditioner was built inside it to insure smooth operation The dis-assembling job will take seven weeks
